THIS IS THE Big Cedar River streambed two miles east of Spalding after it had been channeled by a Michigan Conservation Department buildozer to improve the stream as a fishery. The channel, 9 feet wide and more than a foot deep in the streambed, collects the stream's water in dry periods and concentrates the flow and lowers the temperature to make it more habitable for trout, and hopefully for steelheads which will run into the stream from Green Bay to spawn. The channel is usually on the side of the stream to provide shade. (Escanaba Daily Press Photo by Bernard Schultz Story and Picture on Page 10)

Guardsmen Will Shoot To Kill If Fired Upon

CHICAGO (AP) — The commander of the Illinois National Guard says that Guardsmen will shoot to kill if they are fired upon during Sunday's planned march of 3,000 open-housing demonstrators in suburban Cicero.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and other civil rights leaders meet today with city and clerical leaders in an attempt to reach an agreement on the housing conflict which would halt the Cicero march. King said Thursday he would suspend protest parades if a satisfactory agreement is reached.

A civil rights march Thursday night drew little attention. Three weeks ago in the same neighborhood, a similar demonstration brought out white hecklers who stoned and screamed at the marchers.

The marchers, escorted by 150 police, made three stops Thursday night at real estate agencies in Chicago's Cragin section where they held brief prayer and song vigils. There was no trouble.

The fourth twilight march of the week is scheduled today in Gage Park, a Southwest Side neighborhood where demonstrations have been held twice previously.

Maj. Gen. Francis Kane said Thursday night after a meeting with law officers that about 3,000 Guardsmen will be mobilized to prevent outbreaks during the Sunday demonstration in Cicero, an all-white community of 70,000 persons.

TICKET AGENTS at Toronto's Union Station found little to do Thursday noon as the Friday noon strike deadline neared for Canada's two major railroads. But the main city bus terminal presented a different picture with long queues already forming. Airlines also were deluged with would-be patrons. (CP Wirephoto)

President Says Viet Fight Aim No Russ Peril

ARCO, Idaho (AP) — President Johnson said today the United States and the Soviet Union face the common task of searching for every possible area of agreement to lessen the chances of a nuclear war.

Johnson said that a full-scale nuclear exchange between the East and the West, whether caused "by design or by chance," would kill almost 300 million people.

He said U.S. objectives in Viet Nam do not threaten the vital interests of the Soviet Union or the territory of any of her allies and that the Soviets have a very large stake in the peace and security of Southeast Asia.

Nonpolitical Trip

Johnson's speech was prepared for his visit to the national reactor testing station here as he moved into the second consecutive weekend of personal appearances. He visited five Northeastern states last weekend.

Later today he was scheduled to speak in Denver, Colo., and Pryor, Okla., in what the White House described as a nonpolitical trip.

At Arco, the President said progress in peaceful uses of atomic energy has "merely raised the curtain on a promising drama in a long journey to a better life."

"But there is another — and darker — side of the nuclear age that we cannot forget," he added.

"This is the danger of destruction by nuclear weapons.

"True, these weapons have deterred war.

Uneasy Peace

"True, they have helped to check the spread of Communist expansion in much of the world.

"True, they have permitted our friends to rebuild our nations in freedom.

"But uneasy is the peace that wears a nuclear crown. And we cannot be satisfied with a situation in which the world is capable of extinction in a moment of error, or madness, or anger."

After saying almost 300 million people would perish in a full-scale nuclear exchange, Johnson added:

"This is why we have always been required to show restraint as well as resolve; to be firm but not to walk heavy-footed along the brink of war.

"That is why we also recognize that the heart of our concern in the years ahead must be our relationship with the Soviet Union.

Search For Agreement

"Both of us possess unimaginable power; our responsibility to the world is heavier than that ever borne by two nations at the same time. A common interest demands that the wise exercise of that responsibility is an essential requirement in the years to come."

Johnson said the common task of the two countries is "to search for every possible area of agreement that might enlarge, no matter how slightly or slowly, the prospect for cooperation between the United States and the Soviet Union. In the benefits of such cooperation, the whole world would share."

He cautioned that peace will not dramatically appear from a single agreement or a single meeting. He said it "will be advanced by one small, perhaps imperceptible, gain after another in which neither the pride nor prestige of any large power is deemed more important than the fate of the world.

"It will come by the gradual growth of common interest, by the increased awareness of shifting dangers and alignments, and by the development of confidence."

Bombing Error Drops Napalm On US Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Air Force Supersabre jet fighters dropped fiery napalm by error today on soldiers of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division fighting a savage jungle battle against 500 Viet Cong only 20 miles north of Saigon.

The accidental strike took a heavy toll of infantrymen. Some reports said seven Americans were killed and more than 20 wounded.

Maj. Gen. William E. De Puy, division commander, flew to Saigon to give newsmen an account of the bombing.

De Puy absolved the Air Force of blame for what he called "this unfortunate napalming of our own troops."

He said the infantrymen called in air strikes "very close" to their own positions, but "we did not ask for napalm on our own troops."

De Puy said. "It was a rough battle in which we killed more of them than they killed of us, but not as many as we would have liked to have killed.

"As of now, we have 53 VC (Viet Cong) dead."

De Puy said the enemy toll would mount as his men pushed through the jungle area and found bodies of Viet Cong killed by repeated air assaults and artillery barrages.

De Puy said the napalm was dropped only five minutes after a fight between men of the division — the Big Red One — and elements of the crack Viet Cong battalion.

It occurred north of Lai Khe near north-south Highway 16 where three battalions of the division pursued the Communists who had engaged the American infantrymen in a bloody fight through the day Thursday.

The enemy unit was identified as the "Phu Loi Battalion," reputed to be one of the toughest Viet Cong outfits in the field.

The heavy fighting tapered off at nightfall, but the Americans pressed a search for the enemy today.

In the air war on Communist North Viet Nam, U.S. warplanes followed up their record strikes Wednesday at supply and transport facilities with renewed attacks Thursday, the U.S. Military Command reported.

Try To Orbit 8 Satellites Lost In Fiery Blast

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —A Titan 3 rocket exploded into boiling fireball high over the Atlantic Ocean today, ruining an Air Force attempt to hurl eight military communications satellites into orbit.

The Air Force reported there was no immediate indication what went wrong with the big booster. The explosion occurred after about 80 seconds of flight and sent fiery debris falling into the sea off the Florida coast.

The failure was the first for the Titan 3, largest rocket in the Air Force arsenal.

The rocket was to have strung the satellites like a necklace around the earth's equator at an altitude of about 21,000 miles.

The Defense Department had planned to use these and seven earlier satellites launched in June to form a global communications network to speed vital messages around the world, primarily between Washington and Saigon.

The rocket was 12 stories tall and valued at about $20 million. Each of the eight communications satellites had a price tag of obout one million dollars.

Durant Expected To Stir Up Fuss During GOP Fall Gathering

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Republicans braced themselves today for a noisy right-wing assault.

Richard Durant, ultra-conservative chairman of Detroit's 14th district was expected to stir up the party's fall nominating convention in Detroit.

"He's up to something," said a highly placed party source. "He picked up delegate lists recently—the only district chairman to do so."

High party officials and grass root Durant supporters said the fiery ex-John Birch Society member might get his name placed in nomination for a statewide party post — possibly that of lieutenant governor.

Such a nomination would serve no other purpose than to embarrass Gov. George Romney, both sides said.

Romney and Durant have feuded constantly since the time the conservative leader quit the Birch Society at the governor's insistence.

Party sources said they thought Durant would launch an attack on Lt. Gov. William Milliken because he cannot attack Romney directly.

Romney has won his party's gubernatorial nomination for third term in the August primary. Aside from a Durant challenge, Milliken appears unopposed for the renomination.

A top-ranked Negro Republican in state government, George Washington, apparently will be unopposed in his bid for the secretary of state nomination.

A two-man race for the attorney general nomination appeared to be shaping up between former State Chairman Lawrence Lindemer, and State Liquor Control Commissioner Armond Bove.

The winner of that race would have the right to take on the incumbent, Democrat Frank Kelley.

Republicans also will select two challengers to the Democratic incumbents on the Michigan Supreme Court and challengers for several education boards.

The only Republican incumbents up for renomination are Michigan State University Trustee Frank Merriman of Deckerville and Wayne State Governor Norman O. Stockmeyer of Wayne.

The Republicans will also pick one other nominee for each of these boards, two for the State Board of Education and two for the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Violence Meets DeGaulle Tour

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland (AP)—Police hurled tear gas grenades today at unruly demonstrators who crowded into Djibouti Square, awaiting a speech by President Charles de Gaulle of France.

It was the latest in a series of violent demonstrations which have accompanied De Gaulle's official visit to this last bit of French territory in Africa.

Banner-waving demonstrators scuttled as tear gas fumes rose in the blistering heat of the early afternoon.

About 20 persons have been injured and at least one person killed during clashes between police, troops and demonstrators, and between rival political groups as the French president toured the city.

Pro- and anti-French factions among the African residents of this steaming Red Sea port exchanged volleys of rocks and broken bottles.

Troop reinforcements in steel helmets, and holding their guns at the ready, rushed up in a score of personnel carriers to form a line across one side of the Place Rimbeau, main square of the city.

Djibouti was like a city under siege. The crowd shouted abuse at soldiers and police. Security forces held steady. Neither side advanced or retreated. Hundreds of troops were at action stations throughout the city.

Truck Derails · Train, 1 Dead

NEWBERRY — Ralph R. Shaver, 58, Marinette, Wis., was killed instantly at 4 a. m. today when a truck he was driving hit a Soo Line freight train 14 miles north of Newberry.

Newberry State Police said the Lock City Transportation Co. truck driven by Shaver hit the 14th or 15th freight car behind the engine. The truck and trailer, carrying freight, were demolished. Fifteen cars of the train were derailed.

Conductor of the train was Leo Anderson of Marquette. Engineer was Clayton Cody, also of Marquette.

Shaver was going east on M-28. There are flashers at the crossing. Invesaigation of the accident is continuing.

Man Slays Five; Seeking His Girl

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Five persons were killed and two wounded early today when, police said, a man whose girl friend had left him entered her mother's home with a rifle and began firing.

After leaving dead and dying in nearly every room of the six-room apartment of Mary McClease, the man walked out and drove off.

Hours later, state police in Newark, N.J., reported the arrest of a man believed to be Arthur Davis, 37, of New Haven — the man for whom a multistate alarm had been issued in connection with the slayings.

A woman, who had watched from her window as the killer left the apartment, said he wore a cowboy hat and seemed in no hurry to get away.

"He just walked along, swinging that gun with one hand," said Mary Menchacha.

Moments later, she said, a boy who had survived the bloodbath ran from the apartment screaming "Somebody please help me. Please help me! They're all dead-"

The shootings occurred in a city-run housing project in the Negro section of New Haven. All of those involved were Negroes, police said.

Besides Mrs. McClease, 51, those slain were all friends of her family: Neil White, 55, of Dover, N.C.; Richard Leathers, 27, of New Haven; and Caroline Sykes, 24, and her son, Michael, 5, also of New Haven.

One of Mrs. McClease's daughters, Francyne, 14, suffered a stomach wound and was reported in critical condition. Troy Sykes, 4, son of Mrs. Sykes, was wounded in the chin but was reported in satisfactory condition.

Hurricane May Miss San Juan

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Faith, weakening slightly and still veering more to the north, moved across the northern fringes of the Leeward Islands today on a course that lessened the chance of dangerous winds at Puerto Rico.

The storm, with top winds dropping from 100 to 90 miles an hour, was expected to pass over Anegada in the British Virgin Island chain today. This track would take the hurricane's eye 50 to 75 miles to the north of San Juan, Puerto Rican capital.

Since hurricane-force winds whirled out only 25 miles to the south of the storm's eye, San Juan and the U.S. Virgin Islands apparently would get off with a gale-type blow. On the strong north side, hurricane winds blew 75 miles outward.

House Pushes 4-Year Term

LANSING (AP) — Four-year terms for state representatives and whether to investigate threats against Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley are the major controversies awaiting the Legislature when it returns to Lansing next Thursday.

Lawmakers went home Thursday without either question answered as previous commitments dented the number of legislators on hand to work.

Main accomplishment of the week was development of a $9.2 million plan to grant extra school aid—nearly half of it to Detroit.

The Senate approved the revised formula and the House is expected to follow suit next week.

But representatives, if their actions this week are any indication, will be spending much of their time on the Senate side of the Capitol drumming up support for four-year terms.

The House approved a constitutional amendment increasing the term from two to four years effective Jan. 1, 1967.

But the Senate Judiciary Committee could never gather a quorum to consider the issue. Even if it is approved by the necessary two-thirds of the Senate, the change would go to a public vote.

Canada Hit By Country-Wide Railway Strike

OTTAWA (AP) — A nationwide railway strike in Canada began today as company and union negotiators returned to the bargaining table with no hope of averting the stoppage. First to walk out were workers at St. John's, Nfld.

"There is no settlement," R. C. Smith, head of the International Nonoperating Unions, told reporters after a session with railway representatives at the labor ministry.

Separate bargaining sessions were held by the unions with Vice President W.T. Wilson of the government-owned Canadian National Railways and Vice President Duncan McNeill of the privately owned Canadian Pacific.

Representatives of the four unions, whose membership totals 116,000, met with the two railway executives.

The unions, whose members average $2.23 an hour, have asked for a 30 per cent increase.

Roosevelt Says Rockefeller Will Win In November

NEW YORK (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., has withdrawn from the race for the Democratic nomination for governor and he predicts that Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller will beat the Democrats in the November election.

Roosevelt, who conceded the nomination Thursday to City Council President Frank D. O'Connor, indicated he might accept the Liberal party nomination if it was offered to him.

Passenger Panic May Have Caused Fatal Plane Crash

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP) — W coroner's jury ruled Thursday that a plane crash which took three lives May 21 could have been caused by a passenger interfering with the pilot.

James G. Watson of Midland, Mich.; Ronald E. Pollington of Coleman, Mich., and pilot Richard W. Clark of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., were killed in the crash, about 50 miles north of here.

The jury said a passenger might have interfered with Clark after panicking for some unknown reason. He recommended all airplane operators insist that seat belts be fastened at all times.

The inquest was told Watson's seat belt was not fastened.

Test Is Praised By Apollo Crew

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —"It was a great flight and we're looking forward to flying on the vehicle ourselves on Apollo 1."

Speaking in a joint statement were the astronauts who may be circling the globe next Christmas in a three-man Apollo moonship.

The three are Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom, who traveled into space in both the Mercury and Gemini programs; Air Force Lt. Col. Edward H. White II, America's first space walker, and Navy Lt. Roger B. Chaffee.

The trio watched Thursday as a mammoth Saturn 1 rocket blazed into the sky on the start of a flight that apparently passed a significant milestone in the U.S. Apollo man-to-the-moon program.

The rocket, the nation's most powerful, hurled an unmanned Apollo moonship over a blistering suborbital course that carried it three-quarters of the way around the world to a safe parachute landing in the Pacific Ocean.

The flight was intended to qualify the spacecraft and the Saturn 1 for launching Grissom, White and Chaffee into earth orbit in December to start an all-out drive to land astronauts on the moon in 1968.

Before they go into space, two more two-man Gemini flights, in September and October, will conclude that second-generation program.

Get That Number

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A policeman in suburban West Mifflin was sent to investigate an unidentified flying object reported near the local airport.

When he arrived he reported over the police radio that there was a flashing object in the sky.

"What should I do?" he asked the dispatcher.

"Get its license number," came the reply.

Anthropologists Seek Ancient Indian Ruins Near Whitefish Bay

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)— Anthropologists are going fishing for ruins of an ancient Indian community in Whitefish Bay in the Upper Peninsula.

Dr. James Fitting, curator of the University of Michigan Museum of Anthropology's Great Lakes Division, says evidence shows an ancient community once existed on Maomikong Point jutting into Whitefish Bay. Fitting has explored the area for two summers.

The land is part of the Hiawatha National Forest which borders on Lake Superior.

Artifacts discovered a few years ago have led to digging in the sand dunes and the lake region.

Fitting says once he gets more information, he will feed it to a computer to "get a pretty fair picture as to the extent of the communities that stood here."

According to Fitting, civilization on the point dates from the beginning of Christianity to the Iroquoian era in the 17th century.

Fitting says patterns on pieces of pottery found in the area should help to determine the tribal customs of the Indians who lived there.

This is possible, says Fitting, under two premises—that the women made all the pottery and that each family had its own pattern.

Flint scrapers found in the area had evidently been in wide use as fish scalers and scraping the hides of animals.

"This area was good for fishing," said Fitting, "Indians from all over the Great Lakes came here to fish." Fire-cracked rocks pieces of buildings, clay pipes, fish hooks and a copper fish gouge indicate the area was a commercial fishing center.

The last village was wiped out by a smallpox epidemic 100 years ago. Up until that time, claims Fitting, the area may have been the longest continuously inhabited Indian village in North America.

Griffin Will Be GOP Keynoter

DETROIT (AP) -- U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin cancelled his scheduled campaign plans for Thursday night and today to remain in Washington on Senate business.

A number of important votes on amendments to the minimum wage bill were given as the reason.

Griffin said he would vote in favor of the bill which he calls "one of the most important pieces of legislation Congress has considered this year."

Griffin said the minimum wage must be raised to keep up with what he called "the inflationary spiral in the economy."

Griffin was to have appeared in Thursday night's State Fair parade in Detroit and planned to spend today in the Flint area where he was to confer with Genesee County Negro leaders.

Tonight he will participate in opening activities of the Republican State Convention in Detroit's Cobo Hall. He will deliver the keynote speech to the convention.

Area Musicians Gain Experience At Summer Camps

Over 100 Escanaba Area high school and junior high musicians benefited from summer music camps this summer, according to John Chown, high school band director.

Instruction was in all fields of vocal and instrumental music as well as for band majorettes.

Latest students to return from band camp were 11 bandsmen and majorettes who participated in the week-long Northern Michigan University camp at Marquette. The band program was conducted by Dr. Frank Bencriautoo, director of bands at the University of Minnesota. Majorettes studied under Ellen Rae Sielaff, Butler University.

All of the students had at least partial scholarships from the high school music department or local businessmen.

Bandsmen attending the NMU camp were John Gravelle, Kathleen Williams, Jennie Olsen, Kathy Bourdeau, Barbara Benoit, Diane Vogt and Steve Kell. Majorettes at the camp were Peggy Loodeen, Cynthia Rahoi, Kay Ness and Kathleen Pryal.

Sally Barrett, oboe, and Kathy Gilstrap, french horn, received scholarships to attend the two-week all-state sessions at the National Music Camp, Interlochen, Mich.

McCallum's Wife Seeking Divorce

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — David McCallum did not seem like a man who had just been sued for divorce.

He remained calm and not at all bitter, but then, that's the type of chap he is: highly unflappable.

Concerning the suit by actress Jill Ireland, who charges extreme mental cruelty, he commented:

"If there is anything I have learned about human relationships, it is that there is folly in trying to apply the word blame. Life is so complex, so governed by a variety of motivations that it is useless to blame either party when things go bad."

The change of marital status is not the only alteration in McCallum's life. He has also been having talks with MGM concerning his contractual status.

Don't worry, Illya fans, he has no plans to abandon "The Man from U.N.C.L.E."

"Oh, I wouldn't give that up," he mused. "After all, it's a pleasant little game between the studio on one side and Bob Vaughn and me on the other.

"The purpose of the game is to see how long the two of us can survive. Last month I destroyed my rib cage (it was injured in a fall into a cement barrel) and last week Bob lost a hand (burned when he grasped an exhaust pipe)."

But while McCallum concedes that he enjoys this "game," he has his own ideas about how it should be played. This has been the subject of his negotiations with MGM.

"I wanted to clarify certain matters," he explained. "One of them concerns my relations with 'The Girl from U.N.C.L.E.' The studio wanted me to be in the new series every now and then, but I had some reluctance about overdoing the U.N.C.L.E. identification.

"We came to an agreement that I would have script approval on 'The Girl from U.N.C.L.E.' So far I haven't been asked to do one, and I frankly would be happy to wait and see what the public acceptance is."

Rock Schools Open Sept. 6

ROCK — The Rock public schools, with two new faces on the faculty but still in need of a fourth and fifth grade teacher, will open Tuesday, Sept. 6, announced Supt. George Weingartner.

New teachers are Marie Waisanen, a graduate of Northern Michigan University, who will teach kindergarten and home economics, and Mrs. Wanda Hagg, also a NMU graduate, who has been assigned to teach art and Spanish.

Other members of the elementary faculty are Mrs. Helmi Lepisto, grades one and two; Mrs. Mary Nelson, grades two and three, and John Small, principal and sixth grade teacher.

High school faculty includes George Kulack, principal, commercial and math; Mrs. Florence Sayen, civics and economics; Victor Mankiewicz, chemistry and science; Mrs. Charlene Brower, English; Gene DeKeyser, biology, conservation and basketball; Carl Lackey, shop, physical education and football; Mrs. Caroline Kaminen, music, piano and vocal, and John Violette, band. Weingartner will teach history.

Enrollment Gains

Remedial instruction will be conducted by Mrs. Claudia Hoffman. Library will be open daily in charge of Mrs. Jeanette Vogt. Students who plan on taking Spanish are asked to contact George Kulack, high school principal, prior to opening of classes.

An increase in enrollment is anticipated because of the vote of Turin Township to close its school district and transport all pupils to Rock, according to the superintendent. A number of new families in the community also will increase enrollment.

Weingartner said all new kindergarten children, except those who already produced statements for the Head Start program, must have on file records showing immunization against small pox, diphtheria, tetanus, pertusses and polio and also that a tuberculin test has been administered.

Bus Routes Same

Bus routes will be essentially the same as last year, with exception that it will be necessary to send one bus to help transport children from McFarland. Drivers are Clifford Carlson, Elmer Lepisto, Reino Kivekas, John Norman and Harvey Saul. New residents are asked to contact the schools to make bus arrangements.

Lunch program will begin Wednesday, Sept. 7, under the direction of cooks Bertha Hallinen, Doris Carlson and Evelyn Larson. Mrs. Pauline Sayen retired after 16 years of service. Due to lack of participation, the special milk program will be confined to kindergarten children, Weingartner said.

WHITE CRESTED ducks, only ones of their kind at the U.P. State Fair, caused much comment. They are owned by Nancy Weldum of Rock, whose entries in poultry won her 83 firsts at the Fair. The crests on the pair and young drake were termed "hairdo's" and "lollipops" by amused Fairgoers. (Weldum Photo)

Indian Affairs Session Here

The State Commission on Indian Affairs, a new agency whose members were appointed on June 24, is holding meetings in Escanaba and Bark River in an examination of the Indian's situation in this area of the Northern Michigan.

The 11-member Commission was in executive session in Escanaba this morning and at 1:30 p. m. today began a public meeting in the Delta County courtroom at the Court House.

Among the members of the Commission are Francis Wakefield of Grand Rapids, Potawatomi; and Herman Cameron, Bay Mills, a Chippewa.

Ray LePorte, director of the Chippewa, Delta, Menominee Community Agency, will consult with the Commission. Also present will be Billy Bolin, Upper Peninsula Agent of Indian Affairs, Gladstone.

On Saturday at 10 a. m. the Commission will meet with the Indians of the Hannahville community at the Bark River-Harris School.

The Commission's meetings in this area and other sections of the state are to assemble information on the economic and social situation of the Indians of Michigan.

Northern Offers Supervisors Class At Rapid River

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University will offer a course in basic industrial supervisory skills in Rapid River beginning Sept. 26.

The class will meet from 7 to 9 p. m. each Monday for 10 weeks at Rapid River High School. The course will consist of sessions in leadership, wise use of authority, human relations, communications, planning, and problem solving.

The program will be planned and evaluated by a steering committee consisting of a representative from each participating company. Chairman of the committee is Alcott Erickson, plant manager, Early American Fence Co., Escanaba.

More than 400 supervisors have attended similar programs in Manistique, Menominee and Kingsford since Sept., 1963 when NMU initiated supervisory courses.

Howard D. Smale

Smale Named Manager Aide

Escanaba City Manager George Harvey today announced the appointment of Howard D. Smale to the position of administrative assistant to the city manager to be effective Monday, Aug. 29.

The appointment fills a vacancy caused by the appointment of Milton Embs to the position of city controller.

Smale has been a patrolman in the Escanaba Police Department since July 30, 1960.

As administrative assistant, Smale will be employed in handling personnel matters, in work with the Civil Service Commission, and aiding the city manager in administration.

Born in Chicago on May 17, 1937, Smale attended school in Menomonie, Wis., and graduated in June of 1955. He spent four years in the Air Force and was discharged at Chanute AFB, Ill., on Feb. 27, 1959.

Mrs. Smale is the former Mary Paulson, a native of Escanaba. The Smales reside at 409 S. 18th St. They have two children.

New Wealthy, A Real Challenge To Church

By EARL LAWRIMORE

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Being a minister to the poor has its problems, but a less-publicized challenge to today's churches are the new wealthy.

An Episcopal minister in Charlotte knows personally of young couples "struggling to reach the top."

"But when they get there, they find they've only run into a new, often tremendously complex set of problems," he said.

"Trying to keep up with these people can be a real rat race," a Presbyterian minister said. "It's utterly impossible to decide one morning to have a meeting and that night expect even half the people to be there. Meetings must be planned weeks in advance."

A Methodist minister has begun making some of his "calls" at the golf courses in Charlotte.

"Sure I enjoy the game," he confessed. "But on the greens I can make contacts and establish relationships I couldn't make otherwise."

What are some of the challenges of a prosperous, successful congregation?

In first place are money and its temptations.

"Not only do the wealthy find that money provides many benefits," one minister said, "but it also makes them liable to many special temptations and to tremendous pressure from their fellow citizens to share the money, their abilities and free time."

Pastors also find that weekends bring "the great exodus from town — to lakes, the mountains of North Carolina or the beaches — anything to get away for a while to relax."

One minister believes leaving town "may be the only way such people can keep their sanity. If it's impossible for them to get away, they might try to escape through drinking."

Alcohol is another problem pastors of wealthy congregations must face.

"The wealthy are of course not the only ones who drink too much, but they don't have to worry about neglecting their families financially — they can just about drink all they want," a minister said.

The wealthy couple can get caught up in the drive to succeed and leave their children on the sidelines, causing other problems.

There are advantages to having a wealthy and well-educated congregation. Pastors have little trouble finding Sunday School teachers, choir members, group leaders and deacons.

"These people are as gracious and generous as any I've ever known," a minister said. "They are full of enthusiasm and help in as many tasks as they possibly have time for."

One minister who has traveled abroad extensively added that "nowhere else in the world is there the same sense of responsibility for the proper use of money as you find in America. Charlotte's well-to-do are no exception."

Tap water in most United States cities is not as chemically pure as that of one of the Amazon's major tributaries, the Rio Negro.

The State Conventions

The Republicans nominate candidates for state offices not filled by the primary election process at their state convention in Detroit this weekend. They have at least one fewer problem than the Democrats had at their convention in Grand Rapids last weekend because Lieut. Gov. William Milliken is the clear choice of the Republicans for a repeat performance.

The Democrats went into their huddle without a clear signal for lieutenant governor and emerged with Gubernatorial Nominee Zolton Ferency's choice of a running mate. He is former federal payroller John B. Bruff, Mt. Clemens attorney, whom Ferency described as an expert on federal programs. Bruff had gone to the convention campaigning for nomination for one of the posts on the Michigan State University board while the Democrats were considering the possibility of a Negro for lieutenant governor.

When he got the nod for lieutenant governor it opened the way for the Democrats to name a Negro to one of the MSU posts. One of the few convention surprises was the naming of Joe Collins as a party choice for the University of Michigan Board of Regents. Collins is an insurance man and former state chairman of the party who was dumped when former Gov. John B. Swainson chose Ferency as chairman.

* * *

The Detroit Free Press observed that the Democratic convention proved only that the party was for labor and against the Republicans. To run with a not-well-known nominee for governor it chose a politically unknown.

In the area of public policy the party's convention expressions were undistinguished. The Democrats proposed to end commission operation of the State Highway Department and return it to one-man rule and to take the State Labor Department away from one-man rule and give it to a commission. It spanked its own Secretary of State James M. Hare for proposing that chemical tests be given drinking drivers and urged that the Supreme Court be reduced from 8 to 7 members, which has already been prescribed by the new Constitution.

* * *

The convention was restrained by Senator Philip Hart from expressing dissent from President Johnson's Viet Nam war policy but there was no need to restrain it from comment on inflation. That No. 1 political issue was passed over. The convention recommended instead that more money be spent on public housing and public welfare, both of them inflationary.

Detroit Mayor Jerry Cavanagh appeared at the convention to eat some humble pie and endorse Soapy Williams for the U.S. Senate, as required by Gus Scholle to win labor's blessing. The Detroit News said editorially that earlier this year Cavanagh stated that no party had the right to dictate who could run for office or to limit a candidate to the shopworn answers to public questions. At Grand Rapids, said the News, Jerry Cavanagh learned he was wrong.

* * *

The convention was a peephole into an unusual situation. The Democratic party is the majority party of the state. It holds an edge in both houses of the Legislature and all the state elective offices except governor and lieutenant governor. It sends the biggest delegation to Congress and it has developed a use-taxes-for-welfare program which, along with its labor-urban orientation, makes it the stronger of the two parties at the polls.

And yet it has been unable to come up with a candidate for governor who expresses its agreement on its basic beliefs and has accepted Ferency on his own terms. And he is a country mile from the leadership of Senator Phil Hart who brought the strongest influence to the convention in the absence of U.S. Senate nominee G. Mennen Williams, who is convalescing after surgery. Ferency has charged the Republicans with almost all the known political sins in a wild, scattershot technique that often peppers the Democratic legislators too.

The Republicans have troubles in presenting a united front because their umbrella tries to shelter from such a broad political rainfall, but the Democrats seem equally plagued by the problem of what their leader in Washington likes to call "consensus." Hence the convention talk of unity and the appearance of weakness.

Bilingual Canada

The Canadian government is planning to send a number of high-ranking civil servants on a foreign exchange program this fall. During the course of a year, the officials will take language courses and absorb the local culture in order to gain a better understanding of the people they are visiting.

None of them, however, will set foot outside the country.

English-speaking officials will go to Montreal or Quebec, where French is the language of 84 per cent of the inhabitants. French-speaking civil servants will go to strongly Anglicized Toronto.

The novel exchange is part of a long-term program to make Canada a truly bilingual nation, at least on the governmental level.

While language difference isn't a practical problem because most French-Canadians can speak English, "it is a highly moral matter," says John S. Hodgson, director of the newly formed Secretariat on Bilingualism.

"The French-Canadians have a right to be heard by their government in their own tongue."

Trevor F. Gough, president of the Civil Service Association of Canada, puts it another way:

"Living in this country with a Frenchman is like living with a woman. You must have regard for their emotions or else all hell will break loose."

Hell has in fact broken loose in Canada in the recent past in the form of terror bombings by a small minority of French-Canadian radicals, who want to establish Quebec Province as a separate nation.

It is hoped that the bilingualism program will go far toward convincing all Canadians, whichever side their ancestors were on when Wolfe defeated Montcalm on the Plains of Abraham, that Canada is and ought to remain one country.

John Gardner Is Higher Education Meeting Speaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Billie S. Farnum, D-Mich., said that John Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare, has accepted his invitation to be the principal speaker Oct. 18 at a state-wide Michigan conference on higher education.

The conference will be held at Oakland University in Rochester.

Farnum said Durward Varner, chancellor of Oakland University, is extending invitations to all universities, colleges and junior colleges in the state to send representatives to the conference.

"HELP!"

Hiawatha Supervisor Reports

U.S. Forest Aids Economy

Management of national forest areas contributes much to the economic climate of the communities involved, says Sherwood Trotter, supervisor of the Hiawatha National Forest.

"Our contributions for the fiscal year just ended represent an intriguing relationship between nature and man," said Trotter. "The economic and sociological position of our country with respect to the other countries is a result of our effectiveness in utilizing resources. The resources of the land can be divided into two major groups — non-renewable and renewable.

The non-renewable resources include the vast iron and copper ore deposits which are operated extensively in the Upper Peninsula. There are many other non-renewable resources operated in lesser amounts.

Renewable Resources

The renewable resources include wildlife and timber products which thrive on the land in proportion to the physical and biological needs available to them. Management of national forest land is concerned with anticipating these needs and through planned activity creating an environment that will compliment nature's attempts to renew and increase.

The planting of trees in open or recently cut-over areas is one way of aiding nature to regenerate a stand of timber. During the past year the work crews on the 5 ranger districts of the Hiawatha Forest planted 2¼ million trees on over 2,500 acres of land.

Sometimes it is necessary to remove trees that intefere with the growth of more valuable trees or prevent the natural establishment of a new stand of high value. This is commonly called release or weeding. During the past year forest crews treated over 1,600 acres of land in release and weeding operations.

Increase Quality

Quality of existing trees can be increased by removing limbs. In the fiscal year just completed the forest pruned over 400 acres of young fast-growing pine plantations. These areas were mostly planted by CCC crews about 30 years ago when the national forest was first established. The development of these dense stands has been sufficient to permit the first commercial thinning operations. The pruning operation is most generally done shortly after this first thinning.

In efforts in helping nature to renew, increase or improve national forest lands, over 4,500 acres were given help, providing jobs and doing improvement work which will some day provide a job for an operator producing quality forest products.

Venezuela Reds Fail

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Though little reported, events of recent times in Venezuela add up to one of the really hopeful stories of the year. Communism's once major terroristic threat has virtually collapsed as an organized effort.

The news is big because Venezuela has long been regarded as the South American nation most vulnerable to subversion. It was made the Reds' No. 1 target on the continent.

Communist leaders now have publicly admitted the failure of armed guerrilla activity, and the terrorists are disbanding as a large, cohesive force. Only isolated, erratic incidents of violence are looked for from now on.

That this failure occurred in so ripe a place is a colossal blow to the Reds, bound to be felt throughout Latin America. On top of the massive Communist reverse in Indonesia and setbacks elsewhere in Asia and Africa, the event seems critical to Red fortunes.

Terrorism failed in Venezuela because land reform and economic uplift are succeeding. Referring ruefully to the advances managed under the successive presidencies of Romulo Betancourt and the incumbent Raul Leoni, a Communist recently told a foreigner:

"They stole our revolution."

Through last December, 78 per cent of the landless Venezuelan farmers who applied for land ownership had received it. Some 6.5 million acres have been turned over to 117,560 farmers in the seven years since reform began.

The farm story is even better. Once so badly off it had to import most major food commodities, Venezuela is today exporting sugar and rice. Farm output involved in the reform program has quintupled since 1957. Overall agricultural production is up in that period from $331 million to $496 million in 1965.

Rapid rises have occurred in milk, poultry, eggs and beef—items vital to rising health and living standards.

Farmers owning their own land and boosting output are obviously not good listeners to Red propaganda. Chinese Red leader Mao Tse-tung's theory that guerrillas must be like "fish swimming in the sea" of a discontented peasantry is unworkable today in Venezuela.

No less are the Communists being thwarted in the cities where two-thirds of the nation's population now lives. Industrial production leaped 10.7 per cent in 1965, construction 17 per cent. In a decade, manufacturing has more than doubled and is steadily reducing Venezuela's heavy dependence on its rich oil resources.

The gross national product climbed 7 per cent last year. Venezuela has the fastest rising population in South America, with an annual gain of 3.6 per cent. Yet soaring output lifted per capita income to a record $863, the highest in all Latin America.

Educational facilities are being expanded immensely. Since 1957 there has been a doubling of primary school students to a present total of 1.5 million. Greater proportionate rises have occurred in the later educational stages. In this land, beleaguered with the unskilled, 100,000 a year are being trained or retrained in trade or industrial schools. Illiteracy has dropped below 12 per cent.

In Washington, the conservative American Security Council is busy passing on to its readers various accounts of high-level Red planning sessions in Castro's Cuba and elsewhere. Venezuela is mentioned prominently among those Latin lands "in the forefront for Communist exploitation."

Venezuela surely is still large on the Red list, and there is much to be done there—in the economy, in housing, etc.—to keep the country gaining in the race against rising numbers of people.

But, for the moment at least, the Red threat is smashed and no fancy words out of Havana can conceal this whopping reverse.

Farm Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson proclaimed the Nov. 18-24 period today as National Farm-City Week.

Johnson said that the productivity of American farms and the variety of goods and services that flow from the cities are jointly responsible for the flourishing national economy.

Your Dental Health

Answers To Problems

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.

Q — I have to use dental floss after every meal. What's the right way to use it?

A — If you have to use dental floss after every meal then there must be something wrong with your teeth: faulty contact due to poorly contoured fillings; decay between teeth; periodontal difficulty; natural spaces between teeth that should be corrected.

There is a right way to use floss. Hold it so that fingers of both hands are close together. In that way, only an inch or two of floss has to be controlled, instead of a long strand. Then slowly and carefully saw the floss between the teeth until it just slides past the contact point. Try not to jet it strike hard on the gums because it can damage them and start an infection.

Don't remove floss the same way it went in. Hold one end and pull it out the side. If impacted food can't be dislodged this way, make a loose knot at one end of the floss and pull it through the embrasure between the teeth.

Q — What can I do to keep my false teeth from having an odor?

A — It's not unusual for plastic materials used in dentures to absorb odors. And sometimes they are objectionable. This can be kept at a minimum if dentures are not allowed to cake up with stains and tartar and soil foods.

Brush your dentures at least once a day with a stiff brush and soap and warm water. Every week or so, soak them in an oxygenating cleanser. There are many brands available. And about twice a year let your dentist clean and polish them. Clean, shiny dentures are less apt to collect odors or foreign matter.

One more tip: aromatic foods such as onions, garlic, etc., get into the plastic and cause odors that are persistent and difficult to remove.

Q — Tell me the truth. Don't you admit that toothpaste is just dentist bait? I use soap and water and I have no cavities.

A — All I can say is UGH! This reader claims she has no cavities, but she didn't say she had teeth.

Thank you very much for your cooperation in publishing the news item in which we requested the donation of a treadle-type sewing machine.

The response to our appeal was more than what we had anticipated, since we have received calls offering close to 20 machines up to the present time. We have picked up eight of them and, as soon as we place these, we will pick up the others.

I know it is difficult for most people to understand but we do have areas where electricity is not available and the donations of these machines to individuals in low-income groups will make a great difference in their lives.

We are, of course, very grateful to the people who offered the machines and want to express our appreciation to them.

Ann Landers

Are People Starved For Pleasant Word?

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 16-year-old girl who experienced a very strange thing and I want to ask you about it.

Yesterday I was in an apartment building waiting for the elevator and a nice-looking old man was standing there waiting for the elevator, too. I smiled at him and said, "Good Afternoon" He replied with a very friendly smile and then he asked where I went to school, how old I was and a few other questions. We must have chatted about five minutes and then we both agreed that the elevator we were waiting for was surely the slowest one in the whole world.

Just as the elevator arrived the man took out his wallet and handed me $5. He said, "I want to give you this for being so nice. Most people ignore me."

I was shocked and refused to take the money. I told him I enjoyed talking to him and that I wouldn't dream of accepting pay for it.

Is this the way the world really is? Are people so lonely for a kind word that they actually feel like paying a stranger for just being pleasant? Please tell me.—PITTSBURGH TEEN-AGER

Dear Teen-ager: It is unusual that a person would offer to pay a stranger for speaking kindly to him, but I can tell you, my dear, that milions of folks ARE unbelievably lonely —starved for a pleasant word.

You must be a truly lovely girl to have been so sweet to the elderly gentleman. Your life is sure to be filled with sunshine because you have the ability to bring joy to others. It is a rare gift. Use it well.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: At an informal Saturday morning breakfast club a friend used to stop in each week to greet members. Even though he never joined us to eat we were happy to see him.

A few weeks ago someone mentioned baseball and mildly ribbed the man because his favorite team, once a mighty winner, was in tenth place.

This affable and jolly fellow turned livid. His lips trembled and he stomped out of the place in a huff. We haven't seen him since. Is such volcanic anger proper conduct for a grown man? We are all disappointed and would appreciate your views.—MR. BANANA — ONE OF THE BUNCH

Dear Bunch: Of course such lack of control is childish. But today's bums are tomorrow's heroes, so don't count the man out forever. When his team looks better he'll be back. Would you believe five years from now.)

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I am bored with your repeated knocks at the friendly cocktail. I know your type. You probably drink alone.

I enjoy a cocktail or two—or even three when I feel like it — and I resent your continued sniping at social drinkers. Also, I recently proved that liquor can be a friend.

I got smashed at a party the other night and fell over the dog. I was so relaxed I wasn't even bruised. If I hadn't been drinking I might have broke my neck. What do you say to that, Ann Landers? — MARY

Dear Mary: I say if you hadn't gotten smashed you might have seen the dog and not fallen at all.

Political Campaigning Hampers Congress In Lawmaking Process

WASHINGTON (AP) — Political campaigning is beginning to interfere with congressional business as the House and Senate went their respective ways toward an adjournment still weeks off.

Despite Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's contention that many members don't want to go home and discuss controversial issues with the voters, increasing numbers are going home—to campaign.

Many major issues remain before the two houses, however, and few congressional leaders anticipate adjournment much before mid-October.

For months many congressmen—especially the large batch of House freshmen—have been going home to campaign every weekend. Now they are beginning to extend their stays into the middle of the week as they step up the pace for remaining primaries and the Nov. 8 general election.

One quorum call Tuesday disclosed 76 House members not answering when their names were called. Some 52 members missed a key roll call on a possible Reserve callup Thursday.

Exodus Today

And a mass exodus today was the major reason House leaders put off until next week the remainder of the debate on the administration's proposal to create a Cabinet-level department of transportation.

The House is meeting today, but only to consider conference reports on an urban mass transit bill and a measure to pump more money into the home mortgage market.

The transportation department bill, which was crowded off Thursday's program by a long debate over calling up some Reserves and other aspects of the defense money bill, normally would be resumed today. The civil rights bill was debated on Fridays during the three weeks it was before the House.

But key congressmen including Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., the bill's floor manager, and House Democratic Leader Carl B. Albert of Oklahoma, planned to accompany President Johnson today on a "nonpolitical" trip to Oklahoma, Colorado and Idaho.

Transportation Bill

The transportation bill—which still is languishing in the Senate Government Operations Committee—is one of the last six key administration proposals to come before the House.

Others include elementary and secondary education, anti-poverty, water pollution, demonstration cities and fair packaging and labeling. All but the last have been approved by a committee.

But five appropriations measures remain unapproved by the House for the year which started July 1.

The Senate has even more catching up to do. It has approved the water pollution, demonstration cities and packaging bills. But it still must consider five appropriations bills plus a number of House-passed measures — higher education, food for freedom and civil rights—as well as the minimum wage increase now being debated.

Perronville

Thirteen Hour Devotions will be held at St. Michael's Church in Perronville beginning at the noon mass on Sunday, Sept. 4. Hours of Adoration will be held throughout the day with the closing ceremony starting at 7:30 p.m. The ladies of the altar society will serve dinner to the clergy. Future parish plans are a Hunter's Dinner on the first Sunday of hunting season which will also be sponsored by the ladies of the altar society.

U.P. STATE FAIR QUEEN Cherie Ann Maskart (right) of Gladstone is in Detroit today, representing the Peninsula at the Michigan State Fair. Micensky Named To Educational Planning Council

Robert Micensky, principal of Escanaba Area High School, has been appointed to serve on the Upper Peninsula Educational Planning Council by Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction.

The Upper Peninsula Educational Planning Council is a part of the Michigan Cooperative Curriculum Program which serve as vehicle for bringing together efforts of citizens, local school systems, institutions of higher education, voluntary educational associations, and the State Department of Education for educational improvement in the state.

Nearly 1,500,000 people in the United States, or one out of every fifty, work in hospitals. This makes hospitals the fourth largest employer in the country.

Escanaba Area Schools To Open

Classes for all pupils of the Escanaba Area public schools, except kindergarten, will begin Tuesday, Sept. 6, Supt Luther M. Barrett announced today.

Time schedules for all buildings will be the same as last year with junior and senior high school students reporting at 8:30 a. m. and elementary children at 8:45 a. m.

"Children new to the community who will be attending junior or senior high school should report to their respective building as soon as possible so class schedules can be prepared," Barrett said. "New children for elementary buildings can report to the principal on the first day of school."

Bus schedules will be basically the same as last year. Parents not knowing pickup times are asked to check with neighbors or call the school district's director of transportation at 786-4661.

Fees Listed

Total book rental and supply fees for the school year are as follows: Kindergarten, $1, First grade, $7.50; Second, $8; Third, $8; Fourth, $8.50; Fifth, $8; Sixth, $8.

Fees in secondary schools are $5 for junior high and $6.50 for high school.

"Textbook rental portion of the elementary fees remains the same as last year, however, the supply portion has increased slightly because of increased costs of paper, pencils, crayons, workbooks, etc.," Barrett said. "Parents are asked to send fees with their children on the first day of school."

Barrett said enrollment for the school year is expected to reach about 4,500 — an increase of 95 students over the 4,455 of last year. He said high school enrollment is expected to exceed 1,300.

"We have 1,315 students registered for the high school now," he continued, "but some of these, of course, have left Escanaba or transferred to other schools and will not report."

The district is still seeking teachers to fill six vacancies for the coming year. Teachers needed include chemistry and government instructors at the high school, core at the junior high and fourth grade, sixth grade and art at the elementary level.

"This is a common problem this year," Barrett said. "Most of the districts in the area are short teachers." He indicated he hopes to have the position filled by the opening day.

The Escanaba Area system will operate Lemmer, Jefferson, Webster, Washington, Soo Hill, Ford River, Wells and Cornell elementary schools plus the junior and senior high schools. It is anticipated the two new elementary schools at southside and Franklin school sites will be ready for occupancy by Sept. 1967.

Public Employes To Hold Protest Rally On Oct. 30

A rally of public employes will be held Oct. 30, throughout Michigan to demand "decent wages and working conditions," according to Thomas J. Fitzpatrick, area director, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL-CIO).

More than 10,000 people will participate, he said.

This will be the first time public employes in the state agencies, county offices, city departments and school boards have joined together for such a demonstration, the union said.

John A. Brodd Dies Early Today

GLADSTONE — John A. Brodd, 83, of 607 N. 7th St., Gladstone, died 6:30 a. m. today at St. Francis hospital where he had been a patient for four weeks.

He was born in Finland in 1883 and has been a resident of Gladstone for the past 60 years.

Surviving is his widow, Maria.

His body was taken to the Skradski Funeral Home where funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Easy credit is said to be a leading factor in the main cause of people disappearing.

Breitzman Home From Viet Nam On Navy Furlough

Donald R. Breitzman, E5, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Breitzman of Bay View Location, is home on 20-day furlough after serving with the U. S. Navy in the Pacific and in Viet Nam for the past eight and one-half months.

E5 Breitzman is the seventh of the Breitzman sons to serve with U. S. military forces. He is now the only one in the military. The others were Fred, Harold, Roy, Admer, Arnold and Harlan.

A 1953 graduate of Escanaba High School, E5 Breitzman has been in the U. S. Navy for slightly more than three years.

His recent service has been with the Sea Bees in the Chu Lai area of Viet Nam.

From Escanaba he will go to Port Hueneme, Calif., for special training before returning to the Viet Nam war zone and the Mekong Delta.

Stonington

Luther League

The Luther League of Stonington's Trinity Lutheran Church met recently and elected new officers: President, Shirley Wilson; Vice President, Lorraine Jacobson; Secretary-Treasurer, Sylvia Erickson. The league decided to ask two parents to be counselors for the organization. Meetings will be held twice a month the first and third Thursdays at the church.

NOTICE

Weather permitting, electric service will be off on Tuesday, August 30, 1966 and again on Thursday, September 1, 1966 some time between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 11:30 a. m., and agoin from 1 p. m. and 4 p. m. each day. Service will be restored sooner if possible.

These outages are required to do necessary maintenance on the high voltage line serving the areas of Cornell, Perkins, Rock, Brompton, Lothrop Turin, Trenary, Limestone, Traunik, and adjacent rural oreos.

Africans Seek Court Change

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Africans in the United Nations are working to remold the International Court of Justice in the Hague so it won't rule against them again as it did in the South-West Africa case.

The court ruled July 18, in cases brought for the African countries generally, that Ethiopia and Liberia had no legal right to claim judgment that South Africa had violated its League of Nations mandate over South-West Africa by introducing racial segregation there.

So the African group of 36 U.N. delegations, in the General Assembly convening Sept. 20, will aim to prevent election of unsympathetic judges to five pending vacancies on the present 15-judge court and to enlarge the court by U.N. Charter amendment so that Africa and Asia will have more representation on it.

The big Western powers can stop any such amendment if they do not mind antagonizing the Africans — and they may choose not to.

UAW Advocates Wage And Price Reviewing Board

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers union has called for removal of all economic obstacles to education.

Speaking to more than 700 students attending the 19th National Student Association Congress, Reuther said a student should be permitted "to continue his education on a basis determined by his capacity and not by his pocketbook."

"India spends a greater percentage of its gross national product on its educational system than does the United States," Reuther said.

Reuther indicated that the UAW will join in any campaign to permit 18-year-olds to vote. He said the UAW's position is that "if a person is old enough to bear arms, he is old enough to vote."

In a news conference, Reuther said the UAW is advocating creation of a public wage-price review board.

"Unions seeking wage increases, and businesses contemplating price increases," he said, "would be compelled to demonstrate the economic necessity for their actions."

New Tourist Attraction

Castle VanHaver Has Tragic Past

By BRUCE D. MCCREA
Muskegon Chronicle Writer

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — At Castle VanHaver there is a feeling you may have wandered in just after Arthur and his knights mounted and left for the jousting field.

That is about the only way to describe Michigan's newest tourist attraction, on M66 a little more than a mile southeast of this resort city high up on the Lake Michigan shore.

This classic stone example of medieval architecture has a tragic past, but it really never was a castle.

Two arms running out from castle-like towers at either end actually housed stalls for Loeb's prize cattle and horses, and what is known now as the "Court of the Lions" was a show ring for purebred animals.

Six years after Loeb built what now is "Castle VanHaver," tragedy struck. His son, Richard, and Nathan Leopold bludgeoned 14-year-old Bobby Franks to death in what was Chicago's infamous "thrill murder." Both youths were sentenced to life in prison.

The Loeb family went into seclusion and rarely visited what had been its Charlevoix summer home and farm. The complex that now has become a tourist attraction lay abandoned and decaying for 40 years.

John A. VanHaver, a Muskegon industrial executive at the time, discovered in 1961 the deteriorating complex of stalls, blacksmith and harness shops, managers home and storage towers.

A native of Grand Haven and a metallurgist, VanHaver resigned as superintendent of Sealed Power Corp.'s foundry at Muskegon in 1963—after negotiating purchase of what then was a castle in his dreams.

In all, Van Haver got 100 acres and a complex of six stone buildings, the interiors of which mostly were in ruin.

Once the buildings had served as an experimental farm on which much of Sears, Roebuck & Co.'s farm equipment was tested.

Interiors once again are spic and span, if mostly without roofs, and VanHaver has installed design and casting studios, an art gallery and gift shop. The latter specializes in massive pieces of furniture VanHaver has created from timbers recovered from sunken ships in lakes Michigan and Charlevoix.

A gigantic coffee table, for example, once was the rudder of a schooner, which VanHaver, who also is a diving enthusiast, recovered from Lake Charlevoix.

The casting studio specializes in producing coats of arms and heraldic shields in bronze and aluminum. Metallurgist VanHaver is the designer and the caster, and he also dabbles in sculptering and painting.

But newsman McCrea reported after his visit, "there is none of the brash commercialism, cheap selection of 'souvenirs' or similar jarring notes which have spoiled so many otherwise lovely points of interest. . ."

VanHaver, who opened his castle to the public July 2 and charges $1 for adults and 50 cents for children, says he hopes to keep it that way.

Drunk Driver Has A Twin

Drugged Driver New Peril

By DR. ALBERT E. HEUSTIS
Department of Public Health

Everyone would agree that a drunk driver is a dangerous menace on the highway, but alcohol is no longer the only cause of "intoxication" among motorists. We are now faced with a new threat—the hazard of drivers who are under the influence of drugs.

These drugs range from true narcotics to such things as stimulants, tranquilizers, sleeping pills, and in some cases, even cold remedies. And because many of the drugs are in common use, people do not realize the effect they may have on their driving ability.

In view of these facts, here are some of the important things you should know about drugs and medicines in the hope you may not unwittingly risk your life behind the wheel of a car.

The most important thing to remember is to never mix medicines with driving, unless your doctor says it's safe. Now, this is basic, because medicines that produce no unusual effects in some people may cause abnormal reactions in others, making it unsafe to drive.

Another important thing to bear in mind is to never attempt to obtain any prescription type medicines without a prescription — not only is it dangerous, but it is also illegal. People who illegally procure prescription medicine in this manner usually do so for their side effects. One example is the use of stimulants to keep awake while driving. Such uncontrolled use can end the individual's life and the lives of innocent passengers in the automobile he is driving.

Amphetamine drugs have many nicknames including: "bennies," "pep pills," and "thrill pills." They may increase alertness and efficiency for a short time but this is followed by headache, dizziness, agitation, irritability, decreased ability to concentrate, and marked fatigue. These pills are also used as appetite depressants.

Barbiturates often follow excessive use of amphetamine drugs, in an effort to slow down from the stimulating effect. Symptoms produced by the excessive use of barbiturates are similar to alcoholic intoxication, including shortened attention span, inability to concentrate, drowsiness and confusion. The person affected cannot coordinate his muscular action when he walks or stands, and sometimes may reach the point of collapse.

Tranquilizers, generally used to relieve mental apprehension can also be dangerous. In normal doses, or if mixed with other drugs or alcohol, tranquilizers may result in sedation to the point of dizziness or drowsiness, greatly affecting the driver's reaction.

Another potential hazard comes in the form of antihistamines, widely used for relief of nasal congestion due to colds and allergies. Some may be purchased without a prescription. These drugs can cause mental confusion, inattention and drowsiness. If you do use antihistamines, read the label direction carefully and follow your doctor's advice about driving.

Two Freed From Bribery Charges

DETROIT (AP)—East Detroit Municipal Judge Calvin C. Rock dismissed bribery charges against Costas (Gust) Colacasides, and a Detroit policeman.

The patrolman, Frank Zugal and Colacasides, 67, had been indicted by the Piggins grand jury, Zugal on a charge of accepting a bribe to omit his duty.

Rock says he dismissed the charges for lack of sufficient evidence. The grand jury's chief witness in the case was vice bureau patrolman James J. Malaeske.

Colacasides is the owner of Grecian Gardens restaurant, which police raided last January.

Colacasides and his night manager Peter Vitale, are still awaiting trial on charges of conspiring to bribe a police officer.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to expand a loan program for American Indians has been approved by the Senate Interior Committee. It now goes to the Senate.

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty-one million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.

Pete The Collie Off Death Row

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete the Collie was off death row today and ready to prove he's not a neighbor-nipper.

State Supreme Court Justice Daniel E. Fitzpatrick vacated a City Health Department order that the dog must be destroyed. He directed the agency to reopen Pete's case.

The department had ordered Pete destroyed because he allegedly bit three people within 24 months. The dog's owner said he never saw his accusers and Justice Fitzpatrick agreed Wednesday that pets, just like their masters, have a right to due process.

The Health Department said it would give the dog a hearing, but warned the result could be another death sentence.

Bands Blare In Fair's Opening

DETROIT (AP)—Bands of all kinds and sizes were to fill the air with music as the Michigan State Fair got underway at midday today.

The 117th state fair celebration opened Thursday night with a parade from Cobo Hall down the center of Detroit to the fairgrounds at the northern edge of the city.

Carnival crews worked to the last minute painting, assembling and testing the rides, concessions and exhibits which stood waiting for the first of thousands of visitors.

Those crowds are expected to spend about $2.3 million dollars at the big fair this year before it closes on Labor Day.

Bands were to stroll among patrons of the fair today, representing the "music everywhere" theme that has become traditional at Michigan State Fairs.

Bands from Sand Creek, Dexter, Onstead and Madison high schools will perform.

Admission to the fair is $1.50, with children 12 and under free when accompanied by adults.

6 State Counties To Form Council

DETROIT (AP)—Representatives of six Southeast Michigan counties have taken the first step toward the establishment of a quasigovernmental council of the counties in the Detroit Metropolitan area.

The representatives, members of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee, agreed to ask the boards of supervisors in the six counties to pass resolutions favoring the new voluntary council.

However, the resolutions would not bind the six counties to join the new unit—the Metropolitan Council of Governments.

Griffin Scores News Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., said there is a wide confidence gap that has developed between President Johnson and the people about the war in Viet Nam.

"The people are learning, almost by the day, that there is often a vast difference between the truth and controlled news, between fact and official pronouncement, between political mood and the realities of war," Griffin said in a speech for the Senate.

"Out of this credibility gap is growing a public fear that we are now caught in a serious leadership gap in regard to Viet Nam."

Griffin said he has supported the idea of an all-Asian conference of foreign ministers to explore possible means of achieving peace and he and others had urged Johnson to call for such a conference.

Such a call by the President, Griffin said, at least would be an indication to the American people "that the leadership gap is being closed."

Judge's Gavel Breaks Case

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)— A judge's gavel broke the case wide open.

After Judge Russell D. Otterbine of Mount Pleasant Municipal Court asked a witness to produce records in a larceny case, the witness found they were in his brief case.

The case was locked. The witness, William Dempster of Lanwood, said he had no key and tried unsuccessfully to pry open the case.

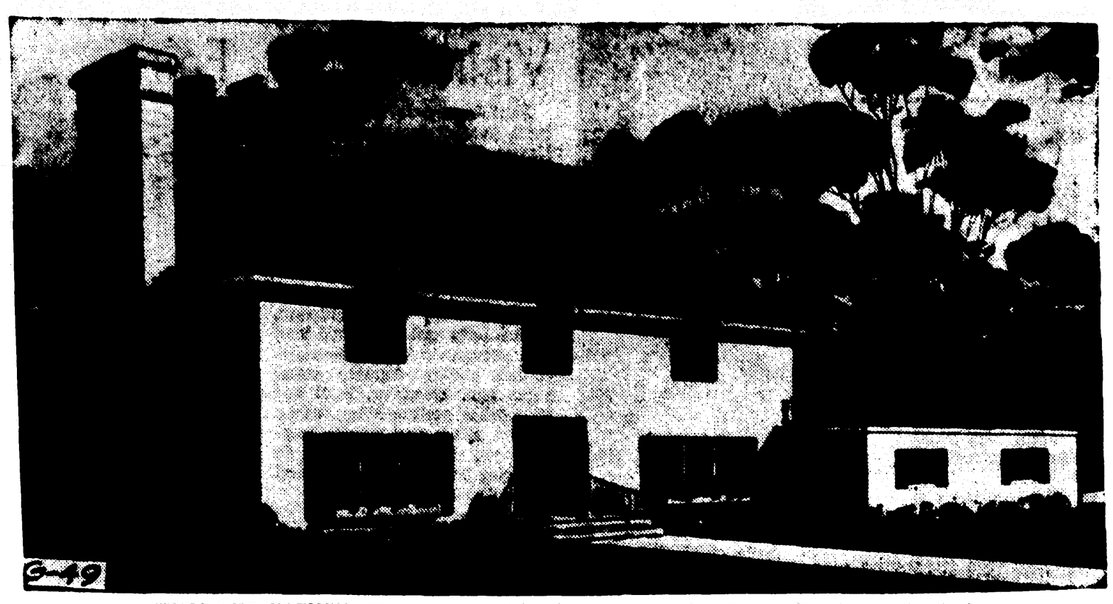
A couple of policemen tried and so did Judge Otterbine.

Finally, State Police Detective Jim Mull grabbed the judge's gavel and banged on the brief case, popping it open.

Testimony—with all records in hand — was to resume on schedule today.

Power Failure

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — Elevators and electric buses stopped, the lights went out and this capital city's two radio stations went off the air for nearly an hour during an electric power failure.



TRIM AND FRENCH: There's a nice "clean" look about this French Provincial, five-bedroom house, with its distinctive yet simple lines. Inside, there are nearly 3000 square feet of living space distributed over two floors and effectively utilized.

Modern French Provincial

By ANDY LANG

The mail serves as a constant reminder of what we already know: that people are widely divided about the styles of homes they prefer. The two big groups comprise those who like the warmth and elegance of the traditional and those who find the contemporary more desirable.

This two-story, five-bedroom house designed by architect Samuel Paul for House of the Week combines the best of both worlds. While French Provincial in character, the layout provides all the qualities for good modern living. The habitable area of 2967 square feet indicates a comfortable overall size, yet it is modest enough to fit most budgets because it is distributed over two floors. The main outline of the plan is a simple rectangle which helps to keep down construction costs. The second-floor cost, by the way, can be figured at about two-thirds of the first floor, which gives good value to a house of this kind.

The exterior is executed simply and without superficial frills. A tasteful combination of whitewashed brick, symmetrically-placed windows, a high-pitched roof, and black wrought - iron accents, exudes a refined gracefulness and a sophisticated simplicity.

A gracious entrance foyer is enhanced by a majestic, curved staircase to the second floor. Besides providing a pleasant welcome, it acts as a central distribution area from which the main rooms downstairs radiate. To the left is the formal living room, 25' 6" long, with a large brick fireplace as its focal point. The dining room is entered to the right through a pair of folding doors. To the rear of the main foyer is the entire informal area, composed of a family room, a kitchen, a dinette, laundry, bath and spare room.

The rear of the house is opened to the expansive patio area through strategically-placed sliding glass doors in the living room, playroom and dinette. The patio can be used for lounging, dining and playing. The work area is spacious, with generous amounts of counter space, and the appliances are efficiently placed to eliminate extra steps and surplus movement. A service section next to the kitchen features an outside entrance mud closet and full laundry space. There is a spare room here as well as a bath and an entrance to the garage. Ceramic tile is used for the floor, walls and stall shower of the bathroom.

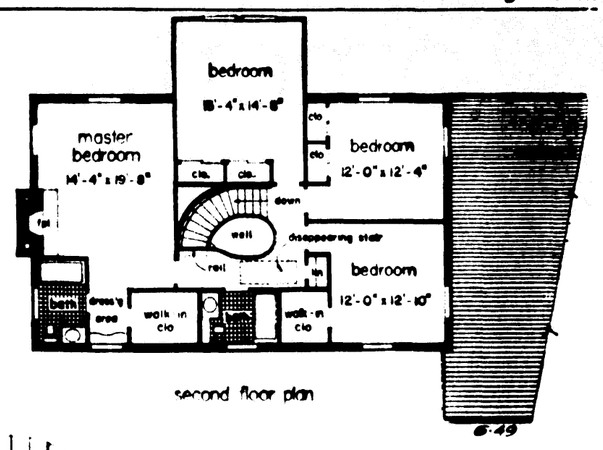
There are four bedrooms, with an abundance of closets, on the second floor. The master bedroom, nearly 20' long, features a corner fireplace in brick. The suite has its own full bath, dressing area and huge walk-in closet. The bedrooms are entered from a roomy foyer which serves the luxurious main bath. A traditional storage attic is made possible by the high-pitched roof. Access is via a disappearing stair, which is stored unseen in the attic when not in use.

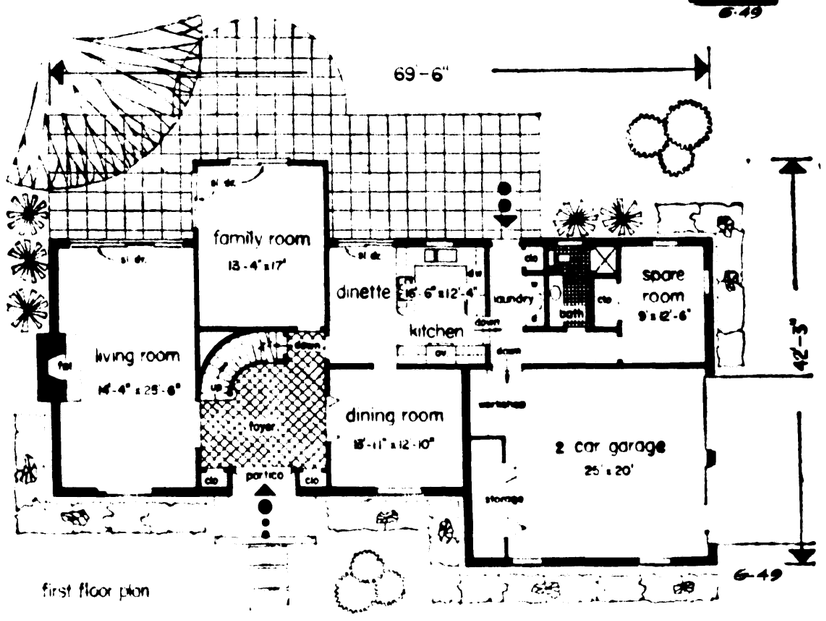
Further storage is provided in the two-car garage, which also has space for a workshop. This handyman area is conveniently located near the entrance to the laundry room and bath, making it possible to clean up before re-entering the main part of the house.

Design G-49, nice to look at, has all the requirements necessary to make it nice to live in.

G-49 STATISTICS

Design G-49 has a living room, dining room, family room, kitchen, dinette, foyer, space room, laundry and bath on the first floor, with the habitable area totaling 1625 square feet. The second floor has 1342 square feet, with four bedrooms and two baths. The two-car garage is large enough for a workshop and a big storage area. Over-all dimensions are 69' 6" by 42' 3".





FLOOR PLANS: The spacious foyer and curved staircase provide an impressive first impression to this roomy home. Indoor-outdoor living is especially convenient, with three rooms having sliding glass doors to the patio.

Hibbard Tells Pollution Peril

HOUGHTON (AP)—The director of the federal Bureau of Mines told Michigan Technological University graduates Wednesday that "we can no longer afford to compromise the quality of our air and water resources as part of the price to be paid for industrial greatness and economic affluence."

And, said Dr. Walter R. Hibbard Jr., "If we must disturb our land to obtain essential raw materials, we must restore it afterwards, and at reasonable cost."

Hibbard told the graduates that technology must respond to social and political problems.

One such problem, he indicated, will be to fulfill the demands for high living standards of an estimated 300 million persons expected to be living in the United States by the year 2,000.

"Our resources of minerals and fuels are both limited and irreplaceable," he said, adding that in the long run "it is only through improved technology that their continued availability can be insured."

Nancy And Gery Stump For Soapy

GROSSE POINTE FARMS (AP)—Nancy Williams says she and her son, Gery, will take over some of the campaign duties of her husband, G Mennen Williams, while he is recuperating from a kidney stone operation.

Mrs. Williams held a news conference Wednesday at the family's home in Grosse Pointe Farms, a Detroit suburb. She announced that she and their 25-year-old son will substitute for Williams at some of the functions he had planned to attend in his campaign for U.S. Senate.

Saying "Soapy is a very good patient," Mrs. Williams reported the former six-term governor is "doing beautifully" and should be released from a hospital this weekend.

Mrs. Robert J. Brien

Nancy K. Boles Bride Of Robert J. Brien

Twin brothers of the bridegroom participated in the concelebrated mass at high noon on Saturday, Aug. 6 in St. Alexander's Catholic Church, Port Edwards which united Miss Nancy Kay Boles and Robert James Brien in marriage.

Fathers Peter and Paul Brien, Maryknoll priests home from Taiwan, assisted by the Rev. John Brey performed the ceremony with Mrs. James Wintrock at the organ and Mrs. Charles Palen, soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boles, 911 Wisconsin River Drive, Port Edwards and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brien of Escanaba.

Mother's Gown

For her wedding, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown of white slipper satin styled in a princess line and detailed with satin appliques on the skirt and long train. Tiny covered buttons fastened the slightly squared bodice in the back and decorated the long sleeves. A satin headpiece of floral design with pearl trim held her elbow length veil and she carried yellow roses and white carnations on a missal.

Mrs. Michael Dvorocsik of Kingston, N. Y. was the bride's sister attendant. She was attired in a full length gown of nile green chiffon with an Empire waistline and sheath skirt. She also carried white carnations and yellow roses on a missal.

Serving as bestman was Thomas Harrison of Minneapolis and seating the guests were James Pacholski of Chicago, Gunars Norkus, Indianapolis and Michael Dvorocsik.

Reception

A reception was held at the Mead Inn where the wedding dinner was also served. The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents at the Brig.

Following a wedding trip the newlyweds will make their home at 6225 W. Fairview Ave., Milwaukee.

The bride received her B. A. degree from the College of St. Teresa, Winona, Minn., is an assistant in biological research at Marquette University where she is attending graduate school. Mr. Brien who earned his B. A. degree at St. Mary's College, Winona, is completing graduate work at Marquette.

Dutch Kuchen For A Hearty Breakfast

"Sugar plums" is another way of saying "purple prune plums" - those silver-dusted beauties which are now in our markets.

So good eaten out of hand or sliced and served with cream and sugar, we sometimes forget that this accommodating freestone fruit is delicious in a variety of salads and desserts - pies, upsidedown cakes, whips, soufflés, crisps, steamed puddings, frozen desserts; in some breads, quick coffee cakes, fruited nut loaves, and in the time honored favorite, kuchen.

Dutch Plum Kuchen

Basic Sweet Dough:

This is enough for two Kuchen. You may want to bake and freeze the second one to enjoy when the purple plum season is gone.

- ½ cup softened butter or shortening
- ¼ cup granulated sugar
- 1 cup scalded milk
- ¼ teaspoon powdered mace
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs, well-beaten
- 1 cake compressed yeast
- 2 tablespoons granulated sugar
- 4 cups, about, sifted all-purpose flour

Pour scalded milk over butter, sugar and salt. When cool, stir in beaten eggs, then yeast which has been combined with 2 tablespoons sugar. Mix in mace and flour, a little at a time, to form a soft dough.

When too stiff to mix with a spoon, turn out on floured pastry cloth or board and knead in only enough flour to form a soft dough. Knead gently several minutes or until smooth. Shape in ball.

Place in well-buttered bowl, brush top of dough with melted butter or shortening. Cover with towel, let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Turn out onto board or cloth and knead again for several minutes. Return to greased bowl repeating process. Allow to rise again until double.

Purple Plum Kuchen (one):

Divide dough in half. Shape each into smooth ball. Pat and roll one ball to fit a 10-inch round or square pan. Place in well-greased pan, pulling and stretching dough to fit, having it come up on all sides about 1 inch. Spread with softened butter.

Sprinkle with 3 tablespoons dry bread crumbs and let stand about 15 minutes. Wash about 20 firm fresh Purple Prune Plums. Remove seeds. (A flick of the paring knife will zip the seeds right out, since this is a freestone fruit). Cut in quarters.

For a square pan, lay plums in parallel rows on top of the crumbs, in circles for a round pan. Sprinkle with ½ cup of granulated sugar mixed with ½ teaspoon cinnamon. Combine 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon cream. Drizzle over the plums. Let stand 15 minutes or until dough appears light. Bake in 350 degrees F. (moderate) oven about 50 minutes or until crust is brown and plums are soft. Serve hot, preferably. Wonderful for breakfast with sausage. Good too as dessert with plenty of hot coffee.

To freeze a baked Kuchen, chill quickly in the pan in which it was baked. Wrap in freezer wrappings, pan and all.

TV's Girl From U.N.C.L.E. To Wed In Nevada

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Social note: On Aug. 27, or maybe Sept. 3, Stefania Zofja Federkiewicz will marry John Gary Yurosek at Lake Tahoe.

This news might attract little interest outside of Polish-American circles, except for the fact that the bride and groom are known professionally as Stephanie Powers and Gary Lockwood.

She is television's new "Girl from U.N.C.L.E." and he is out of this world in "2001, a Space Odyssey."

Both are American-born; he is half-Polish, she is totally so. Their meeting couldn't have been more American.

"I was playing third base on a girls' softball team that played in Beverly Hills," she recalled. "Gary happened to be going with another girl who played softball."

Stephanie declined to comment on whether Gary admired her form. In truth, he didn't seem to notice for a couple of years; that's how long it took him to ask for a date. Their romance flowered, and she joined him on his London location for "Odyssey." Upon his return last month they decided on a wedding.

Originally it was to be a big affair in Beverly Hills, but they decided against it. What convinced them?

"The guest list," said Stephanie. "My own list grew to five hundred, and my family doesn't even live here. Gary's family does live here, and there are plenty of them."

She figured the bill for the wedding would have amounted to $5,000 — That's two weeks' salary for me." Result: The decision to fly off to Tahoe with a handful of family and friends. Stephanie still hasn't decided on a date, but figures it will be late this month or early September.

Honeymoon? Forget it. Stephanie will have to return to "The Girl from U.N.C.L.E." and Gary plans to leave for London to star in a film for his own company.

Ladies Aid Plans Improvements

STONINGTON—The Ladies Aid of Stonington's Trinity Lutheran Church planned several improvements for the church at its August meeting. More chairs will be purchased, table tops will be replaced in the church dining room and the outside bulletin board will be improved. The Aid will cater for Miss Carol Thorsen's wedding at Trinity on Saturday, Oct. 15.

The Aid will continue to meet on the second Tuesday of the month at 8 p. m. at the church. Evening hostesses were Mrs. Elen Armstrong and Mrs. Pearl Larson. September hostesses will be Mrs. Rudolf Leadman, Mrs. Martin Erickson and Mrs. Alice Leadman.

Civil War Soup Army Style, Family Size

Would you like to taste honest-to-goodness Civil War Style Soup just as it was made over campfires for the Boys in Blue? That's what they'll be serving visitors at McClure, Pa., Sept. 14 to 17.

Seventy-five years ago Grand Army of the Republic veterans got together to reminisce and cook up that Army Bean Soup grandmother never made. Since then it's an annual event carried on by the sons of the GAR, American Legion and other groups. Oyster crackers replace hardtack but the soup's the same.

Upwards of 20,000 visitors from everywhere are guests at the famed McClure Bean Soup and Homecoming Celebration. If you're not one of the lucky ones this year here's the formula handed down by Comrade Henry Kahley, cook in the Civil War and first cook at the McClure Bean Soup in 1891 . . . plus a pared down version to try at home.

Army Style

Into each 35-gallon cast iron kettle put 16 pounds of ground beef, 8 pounds of suet and all the dry navy beans a 16-quart bucket holds. Use clear spring water. As the soup simmers, stir constantly with a 10-pound wooden paddle for 2 hours or longer till beans are soft and disintegrated. No seasoning is used. Each person adds salt and pepper to suit himself.

Family Size

Battlefronts hardly match the wealth of condiments in our own kitchens, so when we experimented we added both ginger and monosodium glutamate to our bubbling brew. This tested recipe gives you 8 or more hearty servings of deliciously different bean soup. Total cost? Less than $1.00!

- 1 pound dry navy beans
- ¾ to 1 pound ground lean beef
- ¼ pound suet
- 3 quarts water

Run hot water over beans in colander. Break up meat and suet in bits. Combine all ingredients in large pot and bring to boil, uncovered. Cover for remainder of cooking, 2 to 2½ hours. Stir often, bruising the beans to cream the soup adding more water if necessary. Salt and pepper to taste only after soup is cooked.

This is even more tasty next day. So protein rich it jells overnight. The authentic recipe makes a superb base for your favorite additions. At table, serve small dishes of minced onion, chives, green pepper, parsley and sour cream so each can add a personal preference to his individual bowl.

Schaffer

Max Ringuette and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eickbrecht of St. Clair Shores, Mich. visited Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seymour enroute to Republic to attend the funeral rites of a niece. Mr. and Mrs. Seymour also went to the funeral on Wednesday.

Finnish Student Enjoys Visit To U.P. Fair

Paul Jarvenpaa, of Pori, Finland, is visiting cousins in the Upper Peninsula, the Heimo Waaks and Stanley Hales in Escanaba, the Ahti Waak family in Rock, William and John Lehtonen in Bruce Crossing and Leo Koskelas in Covington, who all were at the Heimo Waak home Sunday.

Paul's aunt, Mrs. Lehtonen, is the only one who had met him previously when she visited her native country three years ago. However, Paul has no trouble getting along, as he speaks, reads and writes Englisn very well, in addition to speaking Swedish, German and his native tongue, Finnish.

Paul was 18 years old on Jan. 1, and is the oldest of six children. He was awarded a one year full scholarship to Philips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., on basis of competitive examinations. He is the only student from Finland to receive this award this year, and only two from Finland have received it previously.

He will go to New Hampshire the first week of September to begin his studies. He will study languages, history, mathematics and will also take part in athletics. His specialty is 440 and 880 runs. His present plan is to major in education. Upon his return to Finland a year from now, he hopes to further his education at the Helsinki University.

Paul arrived by plane in Ironwood on Thursday, Aug. 11 to visit relatives and acquaint himself with some of the American habits before going on to school. Staying at the Waak home in Rock overnight, he had the opportunity of attending the Upper Peninsula State Fair. He had never been on rides such as those on the Midway, but he enjoyed them. Living on a farm in Finland, he said he hasn't had the opportunity to attend many Fairs. The ones he has attended, have had exhibits, but not amusement rides.

He was introduced to pizza at Marco's, which was something very different to him and he had never tasted malted milk until he came to America. Many things are new to him, but the scenery is much like back home, except that there are not as many fir trees here.

Dear Folks:

If you are one of those who likes fried shrimp, but hate cleaning the fishy oil out of the deep fryer, try frying this type of food DIRECT in a two or three pound can itself!

Natch, you have to remove the label from the outside of the can—so it won't catch on fire—but the lid may be left attached to a shortening can, and left open while frying the goodies . . .

After you have finished frying, all you have to do is let the grease cool, close the lid, and put the can away for the next time. If you used a coffee can with a plastic lid, just snap it back on the can of cooled grease, and label the top "FISH", so you won't use it for anything else.

This saves washing a pan or deep fryer.

Also, because the can is so tall, it keeps spatters off the stove—so we eliminate that nasty clean-up job.

Dear Heloise:

If any of your readers have small children who like simple jigsaw puzzles, here is a very inexpensive way to make one.

Take an old picture you are tired of, and paste it on a piece of cardboard. Trim the cardboard, if necessary, to fit the picture. One could use a picture from a child's worn out story book.

Cut it into odd pieces, and shapes with a scissors. Put the pieces in a box and label it.

You will have as good a puzzle as any bought in a store.

Dear Heloise:

To keep from forgetting to buy engagement, wedding, baby, graduation gifts, etc.:

As soon as I receive an announcement in the mail, I put it with a special card for the occasion. (I keep cards of all kinds on hand so I'm not caught short), and keep these in a special box.

When I go shopping, I take the cards with me, and the address is available when I need it (for mailing from the store), instead of some place at home where it can't be found.

This way, I manage to get gifts out on time, and don't have to go looking for gifts and cards separately.

This has saved me many steps.

It helps him get started in the mornings and reminds him of home.

Many Angles To View Of Profit

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Profits are under fire again. President Johnson is calling for business to show self-restraint in setting its profit margins and thus hold down inflation. Organized labor is charging that today's rising prices are due to soaring profits rather than to rising wages.

But down in Wall Street, nervous stock traders have been watching profits with other ideas in mind — fear that profits are peaking out and profit margins narrowing.

The news, of late, has spotlighted the record profits of many a concern. And housewives faced with rising prices have grumbled — and wondered who was getting the extra money.

The total of corporate profits has soared — along with most other things — in the Soaring Sixties.

In 1960 the nation's corporations reported profits of $44.2 billion before taxes and $22 billion after taxes. Based on performance in the first six months of 1966, the Department of Commerce puts profits before taxes as running at an annual rate of $82.9 billion this year, and after-tax profits at $48.7 billion.

This jump in corporate income, the President points out, compares with a 17 per cent rise in wages since 1960 and a 10 per cent rise in prices.

The reply of business is that the dollar volume of profits has grown because the economy has grown.

In Wall Street, they do not so much study how high the total of profit has grown but how it has behaved in relation to production and sales.

The Gross National Product in 1960 was $502.6 billion. Today this measure of the total output of goods and services is running at $722.2 billion. Business argues that with the economy that much heftier, the dollar volume of profits should have risen even more than it did.

The average profit margin among manufacturers is running around 6.8 cents per sales dollar. This profit margin is the same as it was a year ago.

Wall Street figures that if a company nets 6.8 per cent profit on a million dollars in sales and still makes 6.8 per cent when sales have been boosted to $2 million, the important thing isn't that the total dollar volume of profits has gone up, but that the company's earnings performance should have been better with the greater activity. And stock traders prefer a company that makes more per dollar sales than do the average, and not less.

Highway Bid

LANSING (AP) — A $9.6 million low bid was announced by the Highway Department Thursday for a 1.2-mile section of I 75 in Detroit and Hamtramck. The bid came from Greenfield Construction Co., Livonia.

Dykhouse Gets Insurance Job

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has appointed David Dykhouse of Charlotte as state insurance commissioner.

The appointment follows an unusual visit by Dykhouse to the Senate Business Committee Wednesday.

The committee screens gubernatorial appointees — but usually only after they are appointed. Chairman John Bowman, D - Roseville, said Dykhouse "just dropped in to say hello." The meeting was closed.

Senate confirmation is needed for the appointment to the $18,000-a-year post.

Dykhouse, 29, deputy director of the Michigan Department of Commerce, succeeds acting director John Wickstrom, who has served since Jan. 6, when former Commissioner Allen Mayerson resigned.

If confirmed, Dykhouse would serve the balance of a four-year term, which expires Oct. 11, 1967.

KOREAN PRODIGY Kim Ung-Yong is about to start university studies at the ripe old age of 3. The phenomenal child, who is to start special studies under a physics professor at the University of Michigan this fall, solves complicated mathematical problems with ease and is fluent in English and German in addition to his native tongue.

Double Plenty A Success Symbol

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — We live today in a two-of-everything world.

It is getting so a man can't hold his head up proudly any more unless he has a two-car garage, and dwells in a house that has at least two telephones, two television sets and two or more bathrooms. Many of the bathrooms even have two wash basins — for Mr. and Mrs.

But this philosophy of double plenty breaks down completely when a man goes to work. There he gets only one of everything — except perhaps in the matter of paper clips.

What profiteth a man to dwell in a house with two bathrooms, two cars and two television sets if he has to work in an office where he is allowed only one desk and one swival chair?

Two Secretaries

Subconsciously, he can't help feeling that he is a failure. To have only one of anything today is a sign of lack of success. Deep in his mind lies the conviction that if he were really getting ahead at the office he would have two of everything there, too — two desks; two swivel chairs and even two secretaries.

It may be argued that this is childish, that while it would be a pleasant status symbol to have an extra secretary to check up on the first one's spelling errors, no man could possibly have any use for a second swivel chair or a second desk.

But he could. Any psychiatrist will tell you that too much sameness leads to boredom and boredom causes fatigue. One of the reasons a tired businessman gets so tired is that he sits in the same old hot swivel chair all day long.

And Two Desks

If he had two swivel chairs, perhaps one with a hard cushion and one with a soft cushion, he could switch back and forth so that neither became overheated. This would enable him to keep a cool head so important in making those keen, cold, logical decisions required in modern business.

Why two desks? The advantages of having a second desk should be obvious to any thoughtful student of office habits.

A man with only one desk finds it never has enough space. It may look neat on top, but within all is chaos. His personal belongings are all mixed up with his business files.

He lives in dread of the day when his boss will stroll up and ask for an important folder — and instead of pulling out the folder he'll pluck out a race track form.

If a man has two desks, such tragedies could be averted. He could use one desk for business papers, and the other desk as a kind of home away from home.

No great society can be truly great until a man has two of everything in his office as well as at home.

Conservation Dept. Remaking River

Steelhead Fishing Proposed For Cedar

By JEAN WORTH

White men have been fishing the Big Cedar River rather intensively for more than a century and they have seen the fishing deteriorate.

They have talked for at least a half-century about improving the fishing and there have been some minor projects like the construction of low dams.

Now the Michigan Conservation Department has launched a major effort to increase fishermen's luck in the Big Cedar River.

Directing the work are Ned Fogle of Crystal Falls, fish biologist for the Conservation Department's Menominee - Dickinson - Iron County District, and his assistant, Dave Johnson. Fogle, an Ohioan, left the South Dakota Game, Fish & Parks Department recently to join the Michigan Conservation Department.

70 Miles Of Fishing

Next to Green Bay and the Menominee River, the Big Cedar River is Menominee County's biggest sports fishery. It has about 70 miles of fishable waters but, except for the bass fishing at its mouth, where fish run in from Green Bay to spawn, and for trout in its tributaries and headwaters, it provides poor fishing.

In the heart of the Menominee State Forest, where the river should be at its best as a fishery — with pools up to 17 feet in depth — it is poorest.

The Conservation Department's fish biologists — after much study of the stream — are confident that they can improve the fishing in it. A month ago they sent a crew to experiment with remaking the river in its biggest problem area, the waters from Powers-Spalding downstream for 26 miles.

Starting two miles east of Spalding, the work has progressed for more than a mile and it is being terminated for this year this week, said Fogle. Next spring, after the river floods and subsides, there will be an evaluation of the work that has been done before the project is resumed.

Summer Problem

The work in the riverbed has been done by a bulldozer with a 9-foot blade operated by Roy Babbitt of Thompson and a crew composed of Wesley Turan and Dave McRae of Manistique and Gary Larson of Isabella, who have built the timber substructures for the four dams and the rock cribs in the pools created by the installations.

The Big Cedar fishery problem comes in July and August when the stream dries up. The process heats up what water remains so that it is uninhabitable by brook trout, and even the tougher browns and rainbows.

To combat this problem the bulldozer has cut a channel for the river flow in the streambed, 9 feet wide and a foot or more deep. The water which once idled and meandered through the rocks of the streambed now courses down this channel, faster, cooler and deeper.

"The temperature is 67 degrees now," said Fogle of the channeled waters. "That's good if it will stay that cool, but we have had a lot of rain."

Coaster River

At intervals of several blocks the channel runs into pools created by bulldozing a pile of riverbed rocks into the low timber structures. In the center there's a timber spillway with a flume about 10x10 inches to permit fish to swim upstream.

These dams create pools with depths varying from 2.5 feet to 4 feet. The rock cribs in the pools create fish shelters.

The wide, old streambed remains to carry spring and fall floodwaters, but the channel will give the stream a new summer character, hopefully, and there will be growths in the dried streambed.

The Conservation Department hopes to turn the Big Cedar into a "coaster" river, one which steelhead trout run into from Great Lakes waters to spawn. The steelhead trout or "coaster" is a lake-going rainbow trout.

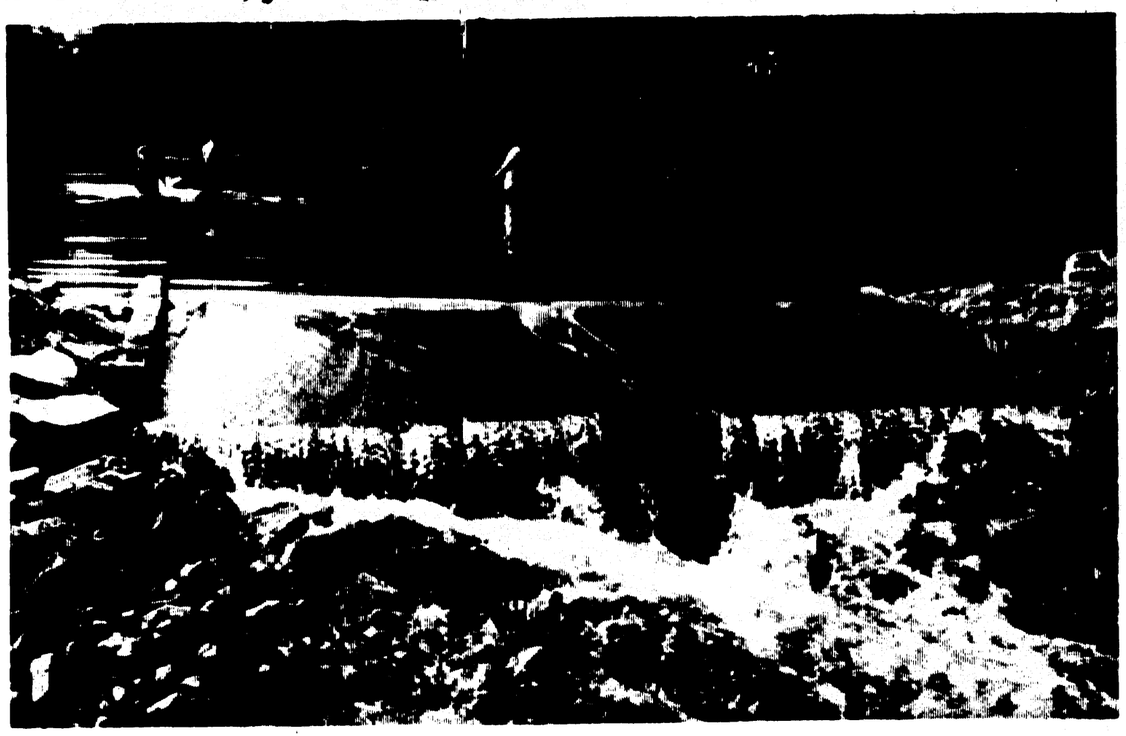
Hope for Browns

The Big Cedar's tributaries have rainbows in them naturally and bass fishermen this summer took several coasters measuring 20 inches or more in the lower waters of the stream.

"The coasters' normal habitat is the lake and they're in it when the rivers are low and warm," said Fogle. "They run into the streams to spawn in the spring and the young rut into the lake the next spring."

"We're planting 100,000 rainbow fingerlings in the Cedar this fall and the electric wier near the mouth to intercept lamprey runs has been removed so there's no impediment to fish runs in the stream now.

"We doubt that we can make it a brook trout stream, but we have hope for browns and smallmouth bass. Anything we do to help the trout should help the bass fishing too."



THIS IS ONE OF the installations on the Big Cedar River in the Michigan Conservation Department's experimental management program near Powers-Spalding to improve the stream as a fishery. Riverbed rocks were bulldozed up on a timber structure to create the dam and form a pool about four feet deep. The timber spillway in the installation has a flume in the center to permit fish to swim upstream. (Escanaba Daily Press Photo by Bernard Schultz)

Law And Order Need In Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayor Ralph S. Locher of Cleveland said today all the money in the world will not solve big-city problems unless there is law and order in the streets.

And he told a Senate panel investigating big-city problems that poverty is the most basic affliction of all — "poverty and its offspring, revolution and crime."

He did not discuss in a prepared statement the outbreak of violence in a Negro slum area of Cleveland this summer.

But, like the mayors who came before him, Locher urged a new transfusion of federal aid to help rebuild the cities.

"Cleveland's specific problems differ from those of other central cities more in degree than in kind," Locher said.

Among them, he said, are vast influxes of the poor and disadvantaged, slums, problem-plagued schools, unemployment and "more importantly, the destruction of hope for those who need it most."

"And poverty," he said, "at the root of it all, poverty."

Jewel Thieves Take Diamonds Worth $100,000

DETROIT (AP)—A downtown jeweler reported two well-dressed men stole $100,000 worth of unmounted diamonds from his store Thursday.

Fred Weinstein, 48, said one of the men asked to see electric razors and held his attention while the other, saying he wanted to exchange something he had purchased earlier, stood near a desk where the case of diamonds was lying.

Weinstein said the thieves took his entire stock of unmounted diamonds. He said he was not sure whether his insurance will cover the loss.

Toyota Seeks Larger Sales

PONTIAC (AP) — Japan's largest automaker, Toyota, reports plans to grab an increasing share of the U.S. import market and maybe even challenge front-running Volkswagen within a few years.

Heads of Toyota's U.S. agencies were in Oakland County Thursday to show off their wares. The little Japanese economy autos last June stood in eighth place among foreign-car imports.

"By the end of the year, we should be in fifth or sixth place," said Shoji Hattori, head of Toyota Motor Sales U.S.S. "In three to five years we might be in a position to compete with Volkswagen."

Last year, Hatrori said, Americans bought 8,500 of the Japanese cars. He predicted this year's total would be about 26,000. Volkswagen sales this year are expected to total around 400,000.

Hattori said introduction of a fastback sports car in the Jaguar class, the Toyota 2000-GT, is scheduled in the United States next year.

Rivers Claims McNamara Blocks Nuclear Navy

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, has accused Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara of standing in the way of U.S. development of a nuclear-powered Navy.

Rivers said growing Soviet naval strength makes such an atomic fleet a necessity, and called for the "most massive naval construction program in history."

Speaking before the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Rivers said only one man has blocked development of nuclear warships "and his name is McNamara."

Illinois Man Is Killed In Fall At Grand Hotel

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — An Illinois man, Jeffrey Owen Gray, 21, of rural Emington, was killed Thursday in what State Police described as an apparent fall from a second story window of the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

Police said Gray was believed to have been vacationing on the island resort. An autopsy was ordered.

Senator Murphy Recovering From Throat Surgery

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., was reported recovering well today from surgery to remove a tumor-like growth from his vocal cords.

The senator spent about one hour in surgery Thursday at Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital. Spokesmen said it will be several days before it can be determined if the growth was malignant.

Murphy, 64, will remain in the hospital five to seven days, said his son Dennis, and may return to Washington in 10 days.

Murphy was advised to remain silent for 48 hours, his son said, adding, "if that's possible."

Earth Picture Shows Coasts

MADRID (AP) — The first photo of the earth ever taken from the vicinity of the moon was being studied by scientists today at nearby Robledo de Chavela, following its transmission from Lunar Orbiter 240,000 miles away.

The picture, snapped Aug. 23 and transmitted Thursday on command from the U.S.-Spanish tracking station, shows the earth looking like a cloud-covered half-moon.

Scientists said the sunlit portion shows Anarctica, the east coast of South America, the coast of the United States and southern Europe. The bottom two-thirds of the picture shows the southern hemisphere.

Compromise On Car Safety Bill Is Agreed Upon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate and House conferees have reached agreement on a compromise auto safety bill that would require mandatory safety standards on 1968 model cars.

The conferees completed their work late Thursday and said the final version would be ready for expected Senate and House passage next week.

One source said President Johnson plans to arrange a Labor Day weekend signing ceremony for the measure.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate conferees, said "I believe that as far as it is possible legislativewise, this bill will make our cars safer."

Interim Standards

Under the measure, the secretary of commerce would be directed to fix interim safety standards by Jan. 31 of next year for cars, trucks, buses and motorcycles, including imported vehicles. He could allow six months to a year for them to take effect but is expected to require them for 1968 models.

A year later, permanent standards would be established.

The secretary is expected to use 26 items presently required on all government- purchased cars as the interim requirements.

Included are such things as seat belts, recessed instrument panels, safety door latches, four-way flashers for emergencies, roll bars, air pollution control devices, dual brake systems, headrests, collapsible steering columns and standard bumper heights.

Some On '67 Cars

Many of the items are expected to be included on 1967 cars scheduled to go on sale next month and in October.

The compromise bill also would direct the secretary to promulgate safety standards for used cars in two years.

Enforcement of these would be up to the states; presumably their effectiveness would depend on whether a state had annual inspection requirements.

The measure also would include safety provisions for tires. The secretary must set standards so that a car shall be equipped with tires needed to operate safely when the vehicle is carrying its maximum passenger load and 240 pounds of luggage.

The secretary also could require tires to be labeled with information giving the number of plies, the composition and maximum permissible load.

Uniform System

In addition, he would be instructed to establish within two years a uniform quality grading system for tires.

The bill would require a car manufacturer to notify the first purchaser of an auto by registered mail of any safety-related defect along with a statement of the necessary repair measures.

The companies would be re-required to buy back all cars found to violate the federal standards.

Fines would total as much as $400,000 for a related series of violations by manufacturers, at the rate of $1,000 for each violation.

The bill would authorize $56.8 million for the first three years to pay the cost of the federal program.

House Rejects Callup Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee is considering legislation that would authorize President Johnson to call to active duty an estimated 60,000 Reservists and National Guardsmen not now attached to units, it was learned today.

Sources said the committee is expected to vote early next week on the proposal—described as the House's answer to a Senate amendment that would have given the President power to call up individual Reservists and Guardsmen with less than 24 months active duty.

The President had not asked for such authority.

The House rejected the Senate proposal—tied to the massive $58-billion defense money bill—by a vote of 378 to 3 Thursday. Members then voted 381 to 1 for the appropriation bill and sent it back to the Senate.

Members and staff of the Armed Services Committee sharply criticized the Senate proposal today in a series of interviews, describing it as poorly thought out, hastily conceived and sloppily written.

McLain Pitches Two-Hitter For Hill Turnabout

DETROIT (AP) — There's nothing wrong with Denny McLain that a big early lead can't cure.

"Boy, I welcomed those early runs . . . you don't know how bad," McLain said after besting the Chicago White Sox 8-0 on a two-hitter Thursday night for only his second triumph since the All-Star break.

McLain, who once boasted that he pitched best in the tight games, admitted he needed this game to help him regain some of his confidence.

"I was down and against myself," he said. "I just couldn't get anyone out. "I was throwing a lot of bad pitches and on top of that, when I did throw the good ones, they'd hit it.

"I didn't talk over anything special with (catcher) Bill Freehan tonight. We just decided that I'd throw hard from the start . . . something I haven't been doing lately."

McLain had lost seven times since the All-Star game when he breezed through the first three innings as the American League's starting pitcher.

Both of his victories since have come over the White Sox and both have been shutouts. He blanked them on four hits on Aug. 2.

He has two one-hitters and three two-hitters among his 15 victories.

"People ask me if I'm eventually going to pitch a no-hitter against Chicago (he was drafted from the White Sox by the Tigers)," McLain offered. "Right now I'd settle for five wins over anybody."

The Tigers wasted no time staking McLain to the early lead. Dick McAuliffe, Jerry Lumpe and Norm Cash — the first three batters against Chicago starter Joe Horlen — singled. A couple of Chicago errors contributed to the three-run rally.

Al Kaline's bases-loaded single, following a single by Dick McAuliffe, a double by Lumpe and an intentional walk to Cash, added two more runs in the second.

McAuliffe cracked his third hit, a three-run homer, in the fifth to close out the scoring.

Ken Berry doubled leading off the fourth inning and Jerry Adair beat out a roller to short in the eighth for the only hits off McLain.

"McLain was in charge all the way," chirped Manager Frank Skaff. "I just hope this starts him on a long winning streak."

Skaff also pointed out that while McLain has been off the beam in a couple of games, he hasn't been getting too much support.

The Tigers scored more than three runs in only three of McLain's nine previous starts. And one of them was in the 5-0 whitewashing of the White Sox.

Detroit closed the home stand with a 7-2 record and opens a 12-game road trip with a night game in New York tonight.

Tom O'Neil Takes Over Reins

New Coach, 14 Lettermen On Crusader Grid Squad

New coach Tom O'Neil is running his Holy Name High School football candidates through rugged twice-daily workouts seeking the right combination of starters for the 1966 season opener Saturday, Sept. 3, against Iron Mountain.

O'Neil takes over the Crusader grid reins this fall from John Kircher who resigned after one year at the post to take a similar position in Florida. The new Holy Name coach has a seven year background in high school coaching ranks in North Dakota.

O'Neil inherited 14 letter winners from the squad that won only one of seven starts last fall.

Returning veterans include lineman Dale Shandonay, Bill Suillivan, Dan Pfeffer, Mike Moberg, Jerry Wiles, John Hughes, John Way, Bob Gorenchan and Tom Plouff and backs Dave Cannon, Bob Bricco, Joe Young, Tom Menard and Mike Dubord.

Injuries have bugged the early Crusaders workouts with Bricco, Shandonay, Dubord, Bal and Moberg hobbled by an assortment of shoulder, ankle and knee ailments.

The Crusaders will get their pre-season scrimmage test at Marquette High School this afternoon.

Rounding out the Holy Name squad are linemen Greg Roy, Pete LaPine, Dan Bal, Dennis Allingham, Jeri Villeneuve, Allen Ettenhofer, Robert Snyder, Pete Priniski, Tom Demerse, Augie Janke and George Rusch, and backs Larry Girard, Pat Verhamme, Jerry Cannon, Joe LaFleur, Dave Buckland, Chris Young and Bill Peltier.

Shandonay, an end, and Bricco, a halfback, are co-captains.

Other members of the Holy Name coaching staff are Ron Johnson, Doug Bovin, Norm Panganis and Bob Dufour.

A new foe will appear on the Holy Name schedule this season. The Crusaders will play Marquette Bishop Baraga for the first time Sunday, Sept. 25, in a home stand starting at 3. All of Holy Name's home games will be played at the Escanaba High School Athletic Field.

The Holy Name schedule:
Sept. 3—Iron Mountain here
Sept. 9—Kingsford there
Sept. 17—Stephenson here
Sept. 25 — Bishop Baraga here
Oct. 1—Menominee here
Oct. 7—Manistique there
Oct. 22—Munising here
Oct. 29—Escanaba here

McKinney Named St. Joe Coach

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jack McKinney was named head basketball coach at St. Joseph's College today, returning to the school where he led the freshman team through several brilliant seasons.

McKinny replaces Jack Ramsay, who resigned from his post with the nationally ranked Hawks to become general manager of the Philadelphia 76ers pro basketball team.

McKinney, 31, was head coach at Philadelphia Textile last year, directing the basketball team to a 21-6 record and a victory in the NCAA College Division tournament before being eliminated.

Gilmer Chops Three Players

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions cut their roster to the National Football League requirement of 49 Thursday, and acquired a center linebacker.

Coach Harry Gilmer said he cut defensive halfback Frank Marsh and defensive tackles Don Weatherspoon and Frank Pennie after waivers on them had expired.

Gilmer also said the Lions have acquired an Auburn rookie, Mike Alford, from the St. Louis Cardinals for an undisclosed draft choice.

Chargers Won't Move

$10 Million Sale Price

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Rumors that the American Football League's Chargers might leave San Diego have been quelled with the sale of the franchist to a group of Southern California businessmen for a record $10 million.

"The San Diego Chargers will remain exactly what the name involves—the San Diego Chargers," said Eugene Klein, 45, head of the group which bought the team from Barron Hilton.

Klein, also president of National General Corp., added that the Chargers will play in San Diego's new 50,000-seat Mission Valley Stadium currently under construction. The stadium is scheduled for completion by the 1967 season.

Negotiations for the sale, announced Thursday, began six months ago, according to Hilton.

But Klein added, "I've been at least seven years trying to buy an interest in a Los Angeles or San Diego ball club."

The $10-million selling price is the highest ever paid for a professional football team, surpassing the $7.1 million paid for the Los Angeles Rams in 1962. Before the recent merger of the AFL and the National Football League, the Chargers had been quoted as worth between $6 and $8 million.

Hilton, founder and president of the Chargers, announced the sale and turned over the presidency to Klein.

Hilton said last year he planned to sell the team in order to devote more time to the Hilton Hotel chain he operates with his father, Conrad. At that time, there were rumors the team would be moved, but Hilton denied them.

Coach and General Manager Sid Gillman, who in the AFL's six-year history led the Chargers to more victories (54) and more division titles (5) than any other club, will retain his posts.

National General Executive Vice President Samuel Schulman is among the 21 partners, as is Pierre Salinger, vice president of Continental Air Lines; Eugene Wyman, attorney and Democratic National Committeeman; and Irving Levin, another National General executive vice president.

Newspaper owner James Copley and restaurateur George Pernicano, two owners under Hilton, will retain their interests.

Hilton and his father will retain 20 per cent control.

Packers Loaded, Waiting With Veteran Ball Club Plus Promising Rookies

One of series on pro football team prospects.

By JACK HAND

WEST DEPERE, Wis. (AP)—Green Bay is loaded and waiting. Vince Lombardi has a veteran ball club that won the championship, plus Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski, the million-dollar bonus twins.

The Packers came up sharp for the College All-Star game and romped 38-0 after a training camp scrimmage that prompted Lombardi to say it was his best camp. Vincent even smiles occasionally on the sidelines. But not when he talks.

"We have a chance," Lombardi said, taking the conventional coach's line. "Baltimore and Chicago figure to be tough. San Francisco looked like it would have a shot. Any of them can knock you off."

Somebody To Go

Lombardi's biggest problem is working a fine crop of young players into a club that won with veterans last year.

Lombardi picked up a high draft choice from Pittsburgh for Lloyd Voss and rookie Tony Jeter. He sent Tom Moore to Los Angeles for a third string quarterback, Ron Smith and Dick Arndt, a future draftee from Idaho. Fred Heron went to St. Louis for another draft choice and Hank Gremminger.

Elijah Pitts is still around. So is Allen Jacobs, a strong runner from Utah. With Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, plus Anderson and Grabowski, somebody has to go.

Lombardi played the regulars most of the time against the All-Stars but used the second line backs and back-up quarterback Zeke Bratkowski in the second half of the game with the Bears. Obviously, he has one big date in mind — Saturday night, Sept. 10 and the home opener (at Milwaukee) with Baltimore.

Relief For Hornung

Some think Lombardi may go to the three-back offense with Anderson on the flank in some series. However, Vince still is strong for the big back attack built around Hornung and Taylor.

Anderson, an excellent pass receiver, talented runner and good left-handed passer will spell Hornung. Grabowski will run behind Taylor. However, both will see plenty of action in that long 14-game season.

Bart Starr, healthy again, will be the No. 1 quarterback, backed by Bratkowski with Carroll Dale at split end and Boyd Dowler and Bob Long at flanker.

Tight end has been a Packer problem since Ron Kramer played out his option and went to Detroit. Bill Anderson was picked up in late season last year and won the job over Marv Fleming. Lombardi has great hopes for Allen Brown of Mississippi, a high draft last year who missed the season due to an injury in the All-Star camp.

The veteran combination of Forrest Gregg and Bob Skoronski at the tackles and Fuzzy Thurston and a healthy Jerry Kramer at guards will be back in action. Ken Bowman and Bill Curry share the center job, with Curry also filling in as a two-way man at reserve linebacker.

Left end Willie Davis, right tackle Henry Jordan, middle linebacker Ray Nitschke and free safety Willie Wood still are the key to the defense. Ron Kostelnik handles the other tackle job and Dave Robinson and Lee Roy Caffey flank Nitschke at the corner linebacking posts. Herb Adderley and Bob Jeter are the defensive halfbacks and Tom Brown and Wood the safety men. The only change in the defense appears to be Jeter over Doug Hart at the right corner.

Don Chandler, hero of the playoff game with Baltimore, again will do both the field goal and punting work.

Lombardi has been impressed by Gale Gillingham, a rookie guard from Minnesota who suffered a broken hand in the All-Star camp. A giant defensive tackle, 6-foot-7, 275-pound Jim Weatherwax from Los Angeles State, raised havoc in the offense-defense scrimmage game.

Cleveland Underdog In Tonight's Clash

CLEVELAND (AP)— Cleveland Browns and ex-Browns may dominate the playing field in numbers for tonight's pro football doubleheader here, but the Browns are being billed as underdogs in the fifth annual tilt.

Part of the lack of confidence in the Browns is the retirement of fullback Jim Brown and need for reshaping of the team's backfield. Another big question is the throwing arm of quarterback Frank Ryan.

Ryan has had his sore right elbow treated all week. He reported some improvement Thursday during the final workout before the Browns closed their Hiram, Ohio, training camp.

Coach Blanton Collier said he is counting on Ryan to start against the Baltimore Colts, but believes that Jim Ninowski, No. 2 quarterback, will pilot the club most of the game.

Otto Graham, former Browns quarterback and now coach of the Washington Redskins, takes his battered team to the field tonight against the Minnesota Vikings in the first game at 6:30 p.m. (EDT).

The doubleheader is a sellout, and those willing to pay for standing room may push the crowd to 83,000.

Baltimore, coached by ex-Brown Don Shula, has scored 99 points in winning its three exhibition games this year over Washington, Philadelphia and St. Louis. Shula's aides include John Sandusky and Chuck Noll who played for the Browns in the 1950s.

Helping Coach Norm Van Brocklin mastermind the Vikings will be Lew Carpenter, who was with the Browns in the late '50s. Minnesota is undefeated in its last 14 exhibition games.

Ernie Green and Leroy Kelly have been taking on the bulk of the ball carrying chores since the retirement of Brown, and, according to the Browns' linemen, the line and the new backfield are beginning to "communicate."

In the NFL Saturday, New York plays Philadelphia at Princeton, N.J., in the afternoon and Pittsburgh is at Green Bay, St. Louis is at Los Angeles, Atlanta meets San Francisco at Columbia, S.C., and Dallas plays Detroit at Tulsa, Okla., at night.

Houston plays at Kansas City, Boston is at San Diego and New York takes on Buffalo at Allentown, Pa., Saturday night and Oakland is at Denver Sunday in American League exhibitions.

Three Golfers Tops In Stag

Ed Gravelle, Bob Turner and Don Goulais shared individual honors in the annual Elks-Country Club-Highland stag Thursday at the Country Club, firing 38s. Mel Manske, Dave Friets and Dave Erickson carded 39s.

Low net shooter was Bill Baum with a 33. Dick Pariso, Arni Anderson and Harold Olsen had 38s.

Longest drives on No. 1 were belted by Bill Eis and Jim Kennedy and on No. 9 by Jerry Martin and Friets. Shortest drives on No. 6 were by John LaBranche and Dan Stein.

Closest to the pin on No. 7 was Barney Barnhart. Longest putts on No. 9 were by Bill Eis and Gump Olson.

Detwiler Knee Appears Okay

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Jim Detwiler, who suffered an injured knee last year, ran without limping Thursday as the University of Michigan football Wolverines opened two-a-day practices.

Detwiler ran in a backfield that had Dick Vidmer and Rick Volk alternating a quarterback. Volk is a converted defensive halfback.

There was no contact as the squad started the rugged training grind.

Smith Pitches One-Hit Gem

Billy Smith chalked up a nifty one-hitter from the Flat Rock mound Thursday night, trimming LaFave's 7-1 in American League action.

Smith's bid for a no-hitter was spoiled in the seventh inning by a bunt single by DeGrand.

Flakey Brandt Knocks Pirates From Lead Spot

By The Associated Press

When the Philadelphia Phillies talk about flakes, they don't mean the breakfast variety.

Jackie Brandt, Philadelphia's journeyman outfielder, is the Phillies' own personal one-man show. He was one man too many for the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday night.

Brandt drove in two runs with a single and double as the Phillies downed Pittsburgh 4-1 behind Jim Bunning's eight-hitter. The defeat dropped the Pirates into second place in the National League, one-half game behind the idle San Francisco Giants.

In baseball parlance, a flake is an off-beat player who is somewhat eccentric. Brandt fills the bill perfectly.

Take the ice cream incident in spring training, for example. Brandt and a teammate decided they'd like a snack after dinner.

"Okay," said the teammate, "there's an ice cream place down the block."

"No, no," insisted Brandt. "I want to go to that 28-flavor place."

That was fine with Brandt's teammate except that the 28-flavor spot was 30 miles away. But Brandt won the argument and the teammates took the ride.

When they reached their destination, the other player ordered something scrumptious — the kind of treat you'd find in a 28-flavor spot.

And Brandt?

"I'll take vanilla," he deadpanned.

Now that's a flake.

The Pirates didn't think he was very funny though. His fourth-inning double brought Dick Groat home with Philadelphia's second run of the inning. Johnny Callison had singled and scored on Groat's double.

In the sixth, Richie Allen singled, moved up on a sacrifice, and rode home on Brandt's second hit of the night.

In the only other National League game played Thursday, Chicago nipped New York 3-2.

In the American League, California defeated New York 5-1, Detroit blanked Chicago 8-0, Baltimore nipped Cleveland 4-3 in 11 innings and Boston swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 8-6 and 4-1.

The Cubs beat the Mets in the ninth inning for the second straight day when Don Kessinger scored the winning run on rookie Bill Hepler's wild pitch.

Kessinger and Glenn Beckert had opened the ninth with singles. After Billy Williams fouled out, Ron Santo walked, filling the bases. Then the first pitch to Ernie Banks was wild, allowing Kessinger to score.

John Boccabella and Byron Browne slammed home runs for the Cubs while Larry Elliot connected for New York.

Bill Doehrman of Fort Wayne, Ind., has competed in 56 consecutive ABC tournaments.

Whitey Ford Has Surgery

HOUSTON (AP) — Whitey Ford, New York Yankees veteran pitcher, was reported in good condition today after a shoulder operation his surgeon described as successful.

The left-hander had gone on baseball's disabled list earlier in the week after complaining of cramps in his pitching arm.

A St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital bulletin said tests and examinations disclosed a blockage in a shoulder artery that supplies blood to the left hand. A six-inch vein was taken from one of Ford's legs Thursday and grafted to the shoulder area to form a bypass of the blocked area.

A doctor said there is no reason why Ford should not return to full activity.

In Memoriam

Dubord

In loving memory of our wife, mother and grandmother, Anna Dubord who passed away one year ago Aug. 26.

Treasured thoughts of one so dear,
Often bring a silent tear;
Thoughts return to scenes long past
Time rolls on but memory lasts.

Sadly missed by the family of
Anna Dubord

RESIDENTIAL LOTS FOR SALE
KURZ BROTHERS ADDITION

The City of Escanaba will sell to the highest bidders certain residential lots owned by the City of Escanaba. The lots to be sold are located between 22nd Avenue South and 23rd Avenue South from 18th Street to 19th Street.

The area is platted and is recorded as the Kurz Brothers Addition. All lots are served by sewer, water and gas; some lots have paving fronting thereon.

Eight (8) lots will be sold by the city. These lots are numbered on the site for identification by any interested purchaser.

Maps showing the lots to be sold are available and may be inspected at the office of the City Clerk. The City will convey the lots to the successful bidders by warranty deed with an abstract of title. Successful bidder shall pay the balance in full of the purchase price on or before October 1, 1966; failure to do so shall automatically cancel said contract and bid deposit shall be forfeited.

Envelope containing bid must be sealed and plainly marked: "Bid on Lot Number....."

A deposit of ten (10%) percent of the bid price shall accompany each bid to show the good faith of the bidder.

Sealed bids shall be received in the office of the undersigned until 8 o'clock p.m. (EST) on Thursday, September 1, 1966. Said bids will be publicly opened and read aloud at the regular meeting of the City Council to be held on that date.

The City of Escanaba reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Donald J. Guindon
City Clerk

Car Dealers Make Less Money; Are Confident Of '67

DETROIT (AP) — New car dealers made less money in the first half of 1966 than they did a year ago but most of them remained confident business would boom again when the new 1967 models are shown.

The National Automobile Dealers Association said its 22,000 member dealers chalked up an average profit of $114, or 2.4 per cent, for each new car sold in the opening six months of 1966.

It compared with the $121 margin, or 2.6 per cent, which the dealers made in the first half of 1965.

The 2.4 per cent was the lowest opening six months profit margin since 1959 when it was only nine-tenths of one per cent. The highest profit point in recent years was the 3.1 per cent showing in the opening half of 1955.

Paul Herzog, director of research for NADA, said dealers, many of whom already have seen the 1967 car lines, were "unquestionably confident as they look ahead to the new model year."

Report Banner Catches Of Yellow Perch

The Conservation Department reports fishing pressure and success should increase as weather becomes cool and clear, and noted walleye and northern pike fishermen should try shallow water along weed beds. Pan fishing should continue good using artificial or live bait.

Most of the lakes in the district offer fair to good fishing. Mackinac County lakes include Big Manistique, Frenchman, East, Millecoquins and Little Brevoort, where a 36-inch pike was caught. A red and white daredevil is the best bait.

Good pike fishing is noted in the Les Cheneaux area, especially near Point Brulee. Chubs are the best bait there.

In Schoolcraft County the department notes fishermen should try Sucker, Snyder and Indian lakes. Good fishing reports have been received from East and West bays at Grand Marais, Hemlock, Pickerel, and Sullivan lakes.

Fair success for walleyes is reported from Big Manistique Lake, Indian Lake, Carp Lake in Chippewa County, North Manistique Lake, Sucker Lake in Alger County, and Frenchman Lake in Mackinac County, where a night crawler harness is the best bait.

Twin and Sunken lakes in Schoolcraft County are consistent producers of bluegills in the 7-9 inch class, when fishing near the bottom with worms.

Some smallmouth bass have been taken from Grand Sable Lake, Alger County and Green Island off St. Ignace.

Banner catches of yellow perch are reported from Snyder and Indian lakes, Grand Sable Lake, Big Manistique Lake, North Manistique Lake, Millecoquins Lake and Carp Lake.

Rock bass are being caught in Indian Lake Millecoquins Lake, Blind Sucker Flooding, North Manistique Lake and Grand Sable Lake with reports of good to excellent fishing. Bullheads are biting well in Sucker Lake, Dutch Fred Lake, Millecoquins Lake. Worms and minnows are preferred bait.

Two of the best producing brook trout streams have been Stutts Creek, south of Shingleton, and Stoner Creek, northeast of Melstrand. The Little Two-Hearted is good, for those who brave tag alder and log jams, and the Pine River is producing nice catches.

Runeberg Picks Vancouver For 1970 Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Burak and Miss Dagni Beck of Escanaba, Mrs. Albert West of Gladstone, Miss Adeline Wager of Thompson and Atty. and Mrs. U. S. A. Heggblom of Manistique attended the Supreme Lodge convention of the Order of Runeberg in Dollar Bay.

Heggblom, who has been international president, is now chairman of the board of trustees, as a past president. Succeeding him as president is Roy W. Koping of Portland, Ore.

Others elected were Mrs. Ethel Balduf, Norwood, Mass., trustee; Mrs. Ilene Atchison, Seattle, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Rae Winger, Salt Lake City, treasurer; Lennart A. Nygren, New Westminster, B.C., first vice president and Ted Holmes Dollar Bay second vice president.

The convention picked Vancouver, B.C. where its largest lodge, with 468 members is located, for its 1970 convention.

During the meeting Heggblom and Eric Soderlund of Norwood were honored for long-standing lodge work.

Rev. Emerson E. Jury of Suomi College was guest speaker at the closing banquet and urged Runeberg members to make a contribution to their children before they die and teach them a sense of responsibility and pride in country. He likened the founder of the order John Ludvig Runeberg to the cartoonist Al Capp, in sarcastic wit which mocks the irresponsible of the time and provokes patriotism.
